AS Star Trek: Deep Space Nine boldly goes where it has never gone before, into a new sixth series, memories of Captain Kirk and Mr Spock fade into the intergalactic ether. Star Trek: Deep Space Nine follows the 24th century adventures of Starfleet officers Captain Benjamin Sisko (Avery Brooks), Lieutenant Commander Dax (Terry Farrell, pictured), Security Officer Odo (Rene Auberjonois) and Chief Operations Officer Miles O'Brien (Colm Meaney). As the series opens, the fate of Deep Space Nine is balanced on a knife edge as war erupts across the galaxy. Plus there are stormy seas ahead, figuratively speaking of course, for Jadzia Dax and Worf as their wedding approaches. For some of us though, the Star Trek series have never been quite the same since Scotty last beamed somebody up. And can someone please tell me whether or not the following exchange actually happened ... 'Uhuru, Uhuru.' 'Yes, captain?' 'Nothing, I was just clearing my throat.' Or is it apocryphal?
Sky One, from Monday 19th, 8.00pm

SIMULTANEOUS television and radio broadcasts are normally reserved for The Proms, not the likes of Chris Evans, but Sky One and Virgin Radio have teamed up and Virgin's hugely popular Chris Evans Breakfast Show will now be seen live on the box, thereby unmasking members of the Evans entourage who have become reluctant radio stars, such as producer and sound man Dan McGrath. Evans rose to fame as co-host of Channel 4's The Big Breakfast, of course, so in a sense he is back on breakfast telly where he started, the difference being that he now has tens of millions in the bank, not to mention his own media empire. David Campbell, the chief executive of the Evans-owned Ginger Media Group, adds modestly that 'this is a brilliant concept, almost like two shows rolled into one. We hope that viewers will enjoy this unique insight into breakfast radio.'
Sky One, weekdays from Monday 5th, 7.30am; repeats 12noon

TOAST of the Town – later renamed The Ed Sullivan Show in honour of its charismatic host – remains American television's longest-running variety show. It was first transmitted on CBS in June 1948, ran on Sunday nights until June 1971, and among the legends who made their live TV debuts on the show were Irving Berlin, Fred Astaire and Walt Disney. The performers who made the greatest impact, however, were Elvis Presley and The Beatles. In 1956, Presley was signed up for three shows – by the third, such a furore had erupted over his 'lascivious' hip movements that he was filmed only in tight close-up. The Beatles appeared in 1964 and became an overnight sensation. They were already huge in Europe, yet their first American singles had flopped. When they performed She Loves You and All My Loving on the show, however, American Beatlemania officially began.
VH1, from Friday 11th, 8.00pm, repeats Saturday 12.30am and Monday 10.00pm

AMERICAN writer-producer Steve Levitan's impressive credits include Frasier and The Larry Sanders Show, and since he has a CV to die for, it is apt that his new comedy is called Just Shoot Me. The show stars George Segal, who, in addition to his long film career, has already proved his small-screen comedy credentials as the father of Monica and Ross in Friends. He plays Jack, a chronic womaniser who runs a chic fashion magazine called Blush, and hires his daughter Maya (Laura San Giacomo from the controversial film sex, lies and videotape) as a reporter. The comedy revolves around their strained relationship, for Maya is a serious-minded journalist who formerly worked on TV news, while Jack, in Levitan's words, is 'as slick, glossy and content-deficient as his magazine'. Just Shoot Me appears to have been received pretty well in America, where it is consistently in the top 15 in the all-important Neilsen ratings.

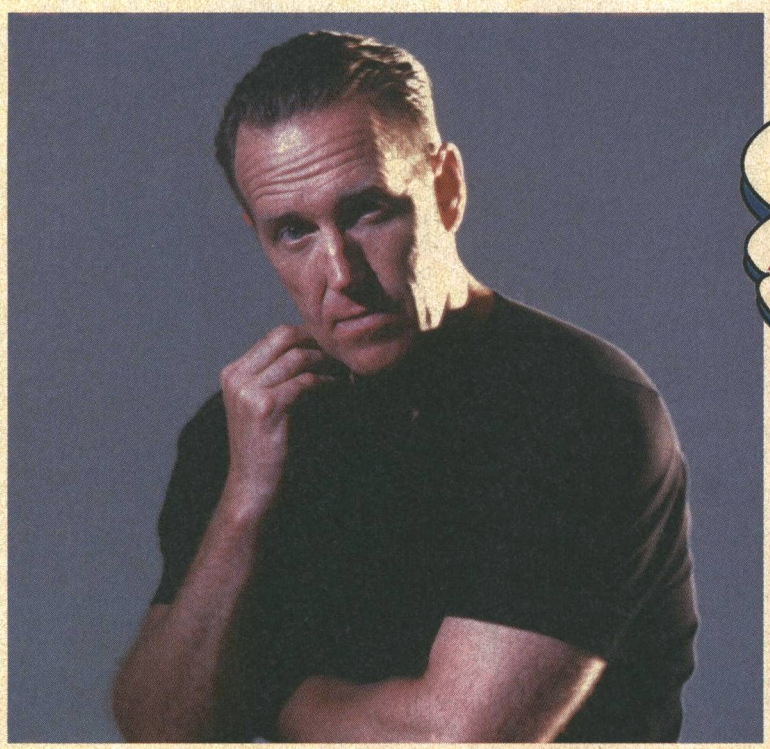
Fergie – Duchess of and early-bird Evans

AS WE made our way to the first tee at Wentworth Golf Club recently, my partners Bruce Forsyth and Russ Abbot introduced me to a friend of theirs, a woman out for her morning jog. It turned out to be a trim-looking Duchess of York, doubtless getting in shape for her new chat show, Sarah … Surviving Life. The show – 10 one-hour programmes – will deal with people who have encountered particular personal problems, and Fergie's reported £50,000 fee is apparently to be donated to various charities relevant to each show. 'I am greatly looking forward to the challenge,' says Fergie, who is said by Sky TV chief Elisabeth Murdoch to be 'a natural in front of the camera'. Friends fans will be able to testify to that, for she, along with Richard Branson, had a fleeting cameo in the London episode of Friends.

Sky One, Mondays, 9.00pm

AT 23, Debbie Currie must be Britain's youngest agony aunt, but then the host of Agony is no stranger to personal problems, for she is the daughter of Edwina Currie. Moreover, Currie considers her youth to be an advantage when it comes to dispensing advice. 'Clare Rayner and that lot give wonderful advice, but sometimes there is a generational problem ... I'm not sure how they relate to the problems of, say, 20-year-old transsexuals.' In the few months that she has been presenting the series, Currie has come across some truly wacky problems, some of which she suspects may have been 'embellished, but not invented' by the production staff. 'We had one strange letter from a guy who had an affair with his girlfriend's sister, but it turned out that she used to be the girlfriend's brother.' Does Currie give advice to her own mother? 'Never about politics, but about her writing and her image, yes. I tried for years to get her out of frumpy suits and last year she finally did it.'

L!VE TV, various times, see listings



WHEN Richard Jobson was six, he cycled from his home in the Fife village of Lochore to the tiny cinema in nearby Lochgelly, which was showing the Beatles film Yellow Submarine. It was the start of a love-affair with the cinema that he subsidised by working on his brother's milk float and, if anything, the love-affair has grown more passionate with the years. Jobson, one senses, isn't kidding when he says that presenting The Movie Show and now the discussion show Movietalk is his dream job. And he pooh-poohs the suggestion that he might be a contender to fill Barry Norman's boots at the BBC. 'I work for a channel dedicated to movies. Why would I want to go elsewhere?' he says, adding that he has already interviewed just about everyone who matters in the film world. 'The most humble and charming were probably Francis Ford Coppola, Al Pacino and Sigourney Weaver. But I've just come back from meeting the director Brian de Palma in New York. What a sad, misanthropic guy he is!'

Movietalk, Sky MovieMax, from Tuesday 6th, 10.30pm

A sneak preview of what's coming to cable

- Viewers' favourite Jenny Powell returns to Sky One next month fronting the new series of World's Weirdest TV, which showcases the best of what's bizarre on the box around the globe.

- News from the US is that the latest celebrity to guest star on The Simpsons is none other than Rupert Murdoch. The media tycoon has agreed to do the voice of Mr Burns's arch rival for the Sky One show.

- Coming next month on Sky One are new series of the animated hit sitcom South Park and the sci-fi drama Earth: Final Conflict.

- Monty Python member Terry Jones delves into everyday items that first came into being thousands of years ago. Ancient Inventions takes a lighthearted look at, well, ancient inventions and among the more surprising things to come under that heading are spermicides, indoor toilets and plastic surgery. The show airs on Discovery in December.

- That man with the tan, Seventies icon George Hamilton will be the guest presenter on Granada Breeze's Livetime next month. For two weeks, the actor, who starred in supersoap Dynasty and the movie Love at First Bite, will front the two-hour weekday show. Granada Breeze say he'll be providing chat, gossip and tanning tips, as well as insights into the lifestyles of the rich and famous.

Talking big

Roseanne is back with a new chat show and she's aiming high. Words: Eric Blackmore

Living

The Roseanne Show: starts Monday 12th 3.20pm

ON 20 MAY, 1997, the day the last new episode of Roseanne aired in the US, Roseanne signed a contract to host her own daily chat programme, The Roseanne Show. Then she took a year off to play a real mum to her five children.

And now the 46-year-old comedy actress is back to fulfil her contractual obligations in the crowded American talk-show field that includes her close friends Oprah Winfrey and Rosie O'Donnell.

After nine years, 224 episodes, four Emmy Awards and a zillion bucks, she's back in the fray because she feels that she has something important to say.

'Of course, sometimes I ask myself why I'm doing it when I don't have to worry about mortgage and car payments,' says Roseanne, relaxing with a cup of coffee at her manager's office in Century City.

'I just felt compelled to do it because it's a chance that came along that might not have come back if I didn't grab it.'

A large part of her motivation for doing the chat show, after guesting on scores of them, was a chance to rectify the 'skewed and untrue' things written or said about her in the media at the height of her fame.

She admits she brought some of the unpleasantness on her own head, too, including the time she and ex-husband Tom Arnold pulled down their pants to reveal their cheeky new tattoos during a nationally televised baseball game.

'I think my own talk show is a fabulous thing because it's the only time that I can talk to the audience directly without being filtered through a network, a journalist or even a character,' she says.

'My guests and I will be able to speak directly to the audience uncensored and unfettered.'

But The Roseanne Show is not a forum for retribution, according to the controversial performer.

'I'd like to present a safe place for ideas that we don't see and hear every day,' she says. 'I don't want guests who are fist-fighting or sleep with their daughter's boyfriends unless they're famous.'

Roseanne wants to take the high road and leave the sleaze to other American chat-show hosts such as Jerry Springer, Sally Jessy Raphael and Jenny Jones.

'We've seen how low we can go,' she says. 'I'd like a chance to see how high we can go. I think a lot of us have forgotten how great people are and how people can be redeemed from the lowest point in their lives to the highest point in a minute.

'A lot of the guests are everyday people, not famous, with great stories. They're everywhere and not hard to find at all. And some will be famous, including friends of mine. I just want people who have something to offer; I'm bored with anyone else.'

The one-hour format of The Roseanne Show includes a humorous opening monologue, interviews with three guests and occasional outside broadcasts in Los Angeles chatting with passers-by.

Viewers will see a slimmed-down Roseanne complete with recent facelift and nose job. 'I don't feel any pressure to stay young,' she says. 'I just want to be in a place where I'm happy and feel good.

'I don't worry about my appearance any more – I'm 46 years old. But I have a lot more energy and I'm actually able to get excited about life every day.'

YOU'LL BE SEEING MORE OF

The greatest American hero

All those action films may have taken their toll, but Harrison Ford is still determined to give audiences what they want. And at the age of 56, the actor is still flying high. Interview: Garth Pearce

Sky Box Office 1
Channel 51
This is a movies on-demand service. For ordering details, see pages 18-19

Air Force One Starts Thursday 1st

THERE is a point in Air Force One when Harrison Ford, playing the President of the United States, is slapped very hard across the face by Gary Oldman's ruthless Russian terrorist. It seems to sum up the careers of these remarkable actors: Ford, ever the good guy, receiving it on the chin; Oldman, the hateful villain, delivering a blow for evil.

In truth, it did not happen like that at all. Oldman, 40, a rather sensitive man behind his acerbic image, was reluctant to put the right power into the blow. After five takes on the film set, all powderpuff efforts, Ford took him aside and ordered, 'Hit me very hard – otherwise this scene isn't going to work properly.' That was all that Oldman, a proud and consummate actor, needed. On the next take, he almost knocked Ford's head off.

When the film was successfully launched in America last summer, audiences gasped at the scene. They weren't bothered that their President was being humiliated. But good ol' Harrison? That was another matter. The man is one of a handful of true screen heroes of this era, particularly in his home country. Even Oldman admits, tongue-in-cheek, 'It felt like hitting a saint.'

Ford proves that he just can't keep down the spirit of Indiana Jones: the good guy, winning through against the odds. He may be 56, but he seems to be running faster than ever. He arrives for our meeting with a gold earring in his left ear, announces that he has just flown his own plane across America and talks fondly of his new toy, a highly charged BMW motorbike.

Is this a man suffering from a mid-life crisis? He's even talking about doing another Indiana Jones, for goodness sake, at a point when the stuntman who did all his daredevil action in the previous films has retired.

But Harrison, who has a five-year-old grandson, insists, 'I just have no desire to slow down. With age comes a realisation that there's only so much time to do the things that I want. I thought at one point I might try to cut back on work, but I don't seem to have the ability.'

The result, in Air Force One, is an American President who has to almost single-handedly deal with assassins and kidnappers. It all starts peacefully enough. After a goodwill mission to the reformed Russia, a selection of top journalists and observers are taken on board the President's plane, the specially equipped 747 called Air Force One.

But some of the journalists are terrorists in disguise. Their aim is to kidnap the President in return for the release from prison of their communist leader, who has designs on the Russian presidency.

Ford, playing a president who once fought in Vietnam, has to relive his long-forgotten military training as he fights for the lives of his family, who are also on board. He fires guns, dashes along aisles and up and down stairs and fights his way through hand-to-hand combat. Although the more spectacular falls are performed by stuntmen, Ford performs much of the acrobatics himself.

'I may be an old fart, but I'm not yet prepared to play one,' he reasons. 'I think there's still plenty of action in me. All that tennis I am forced to play every day has to have a purpose.'

He denies that he is hell-bent on recovering his lost youth by riding a motorbike around his vast ranch and learning to fly a plane, for which he won his pilot's licence in the autumn of 1996. 'I always wanted these things,' he says with a shrug.

The truth is Harrison's twenties and early thirties were eaten up by several film disappointments as he failed to make it big in Hollywood. He also worked as a carpenter to make ends meet with his first wife Mary and sons Benjamin and Willard.

It resulted in the end of his marriage. 'That is my greatest regret,' he says. 'I can't be proud of myself for the lack of time I gave my first family. Air Force One appealed to me because it was about a president who had to put his family first, for once, since they are at risk on his plane. It takes courage to realise that your family is indeed the most important thing – and then do something about it.'

Ford is still flying high – he plays a pilot who wins the love of a woman nearly half his age in his latest film, Six Days, Seven Nights, and talks optimistically about the possibility of the new Indiana Jones movie next year.

Meanwhile, Gary Oldman, master villain, who was at it yet again over the summer as evil saboteur Dr Zachary Smith in Lost in Space, ruefully observes, 'I can't help thinking that it's time I played a hero.'

Mr Nice and Mr Nasty

Some call it typecasting, others say they're just sticking to what they do best. Here's a rundown of the two actors' most memorable movie roles ...

Harrison's Heroes

Disney Channel's ground-breaking new show Microsoap is so fast and furious it leaves

THIS could be any TV soap – divorced parents, Mum's new boyfriend, his 'children from hell', teenage tiffs, a dysfunctional dad … your basic requirements for the kitchen-sink dramas of daily life. But Microsoap is something completely different. For starters, it's a soap aimed at kids, told through the eyes of kids and addressing real family issues as seen by kids.

Indeed, it is ground-breaking, innovative comedy at the cutting edge of children's television, relayed in sound-bite-sized, cartoon-style scenes delivered at a fast and furious pace. Maybe just a bit too breathtakingly fast for us grown-ups to take on board, but not for the young audience it's aimed at.

As producer Andy Rowley explains: 'I believe quite strongly that we should treat children as young adults. Microsoap gives a child's focus on the world. I really do feel they have the ability to deal with issues much better than adults give them credit for.

'Children are essentially totally positive: they find a way to move forward and, although they have their own problems, they don't get depressed and they tend not to have negative thoughts.

'The series has a truly child-centred attitude of what goes on in an adult world and what shapes their lives. It's fast-paced and deals with some interesting issues but in a cool, slightly anarchic way.'

As Jeff Rawle (who plays Colin, divorced dad of Emily and Joe, a not too

Jennifer (Lou Gish) The family counsellor and Colin's girlfriend – sort of. She's a very sharp dresser who likes a structured and orderly life – probably making her very suited to Colin.

Colin (Jeff Rawle) A computer programmer – very ordered and tidy. He's fairly incompatible with his former wife, Jane, who's much more of a live-and-let-live individual.

Felicity (Lucy Evans) David's nine-year-old sister; very girly, loves ballet, horses and dressing in pink. Wants to be everyone's friend and talks an awful lot, which drives Emily nuts.

Robbie (Albey Brookes) David and Felicity's eight-year-old brother who has an invisible friend called Pogo, a six-foot three-inch tall mouse. He's also ready to add to the chaos at any time.

Uncle Barry (Richard Dixon) Emily and Joe's uncle is almost impossible to describe. He comes in a variety of guises, including Atilla the Hun, an opera lover and the voice of Mr Squeezy.

dissimilar character to woolly news editor George in the anarchic comedy Drop the Dead Donkey) notes: 'We have a tendency to talk down to kids and water down the humour, but they're very smart. A headmaster told me the reason Drop the Dead Donkey was watched so religiously by ten- to 14-year-olds was because it was so irreverent.

'And there is a certain irreverence to Microsoap.'

Meanwhile on Stage 1 at Twickenham Studios, 11-year-old Joe, played by Paul Terry – he's all of 12 and starred in James and the Giant Peach – has been watching Invasion of the Body Snatchers on the box and is convinced that his parents have been taken over by aliens.

This is because they've been acting a little distant towards him and his big sister (Rebecca Hunter).

'When he sees his parents back together again, he thinks that they must be out on a date together but, in actual fact, they're going through the painful bit of signing divorce papers,' adds Jeff, himself a father who has recently married, but who's been through a traumatic separation from his previous partner.

'Often the best comedy comes from having a degree of truth to it and the more underlying seriousness there is, the funnier it will turn out to be. The thing about parenthood is that there is no perfect parent. All parents want to be perfect but you'll always get it wrong, although that doesn't mean you have to stop trying to get it right.'

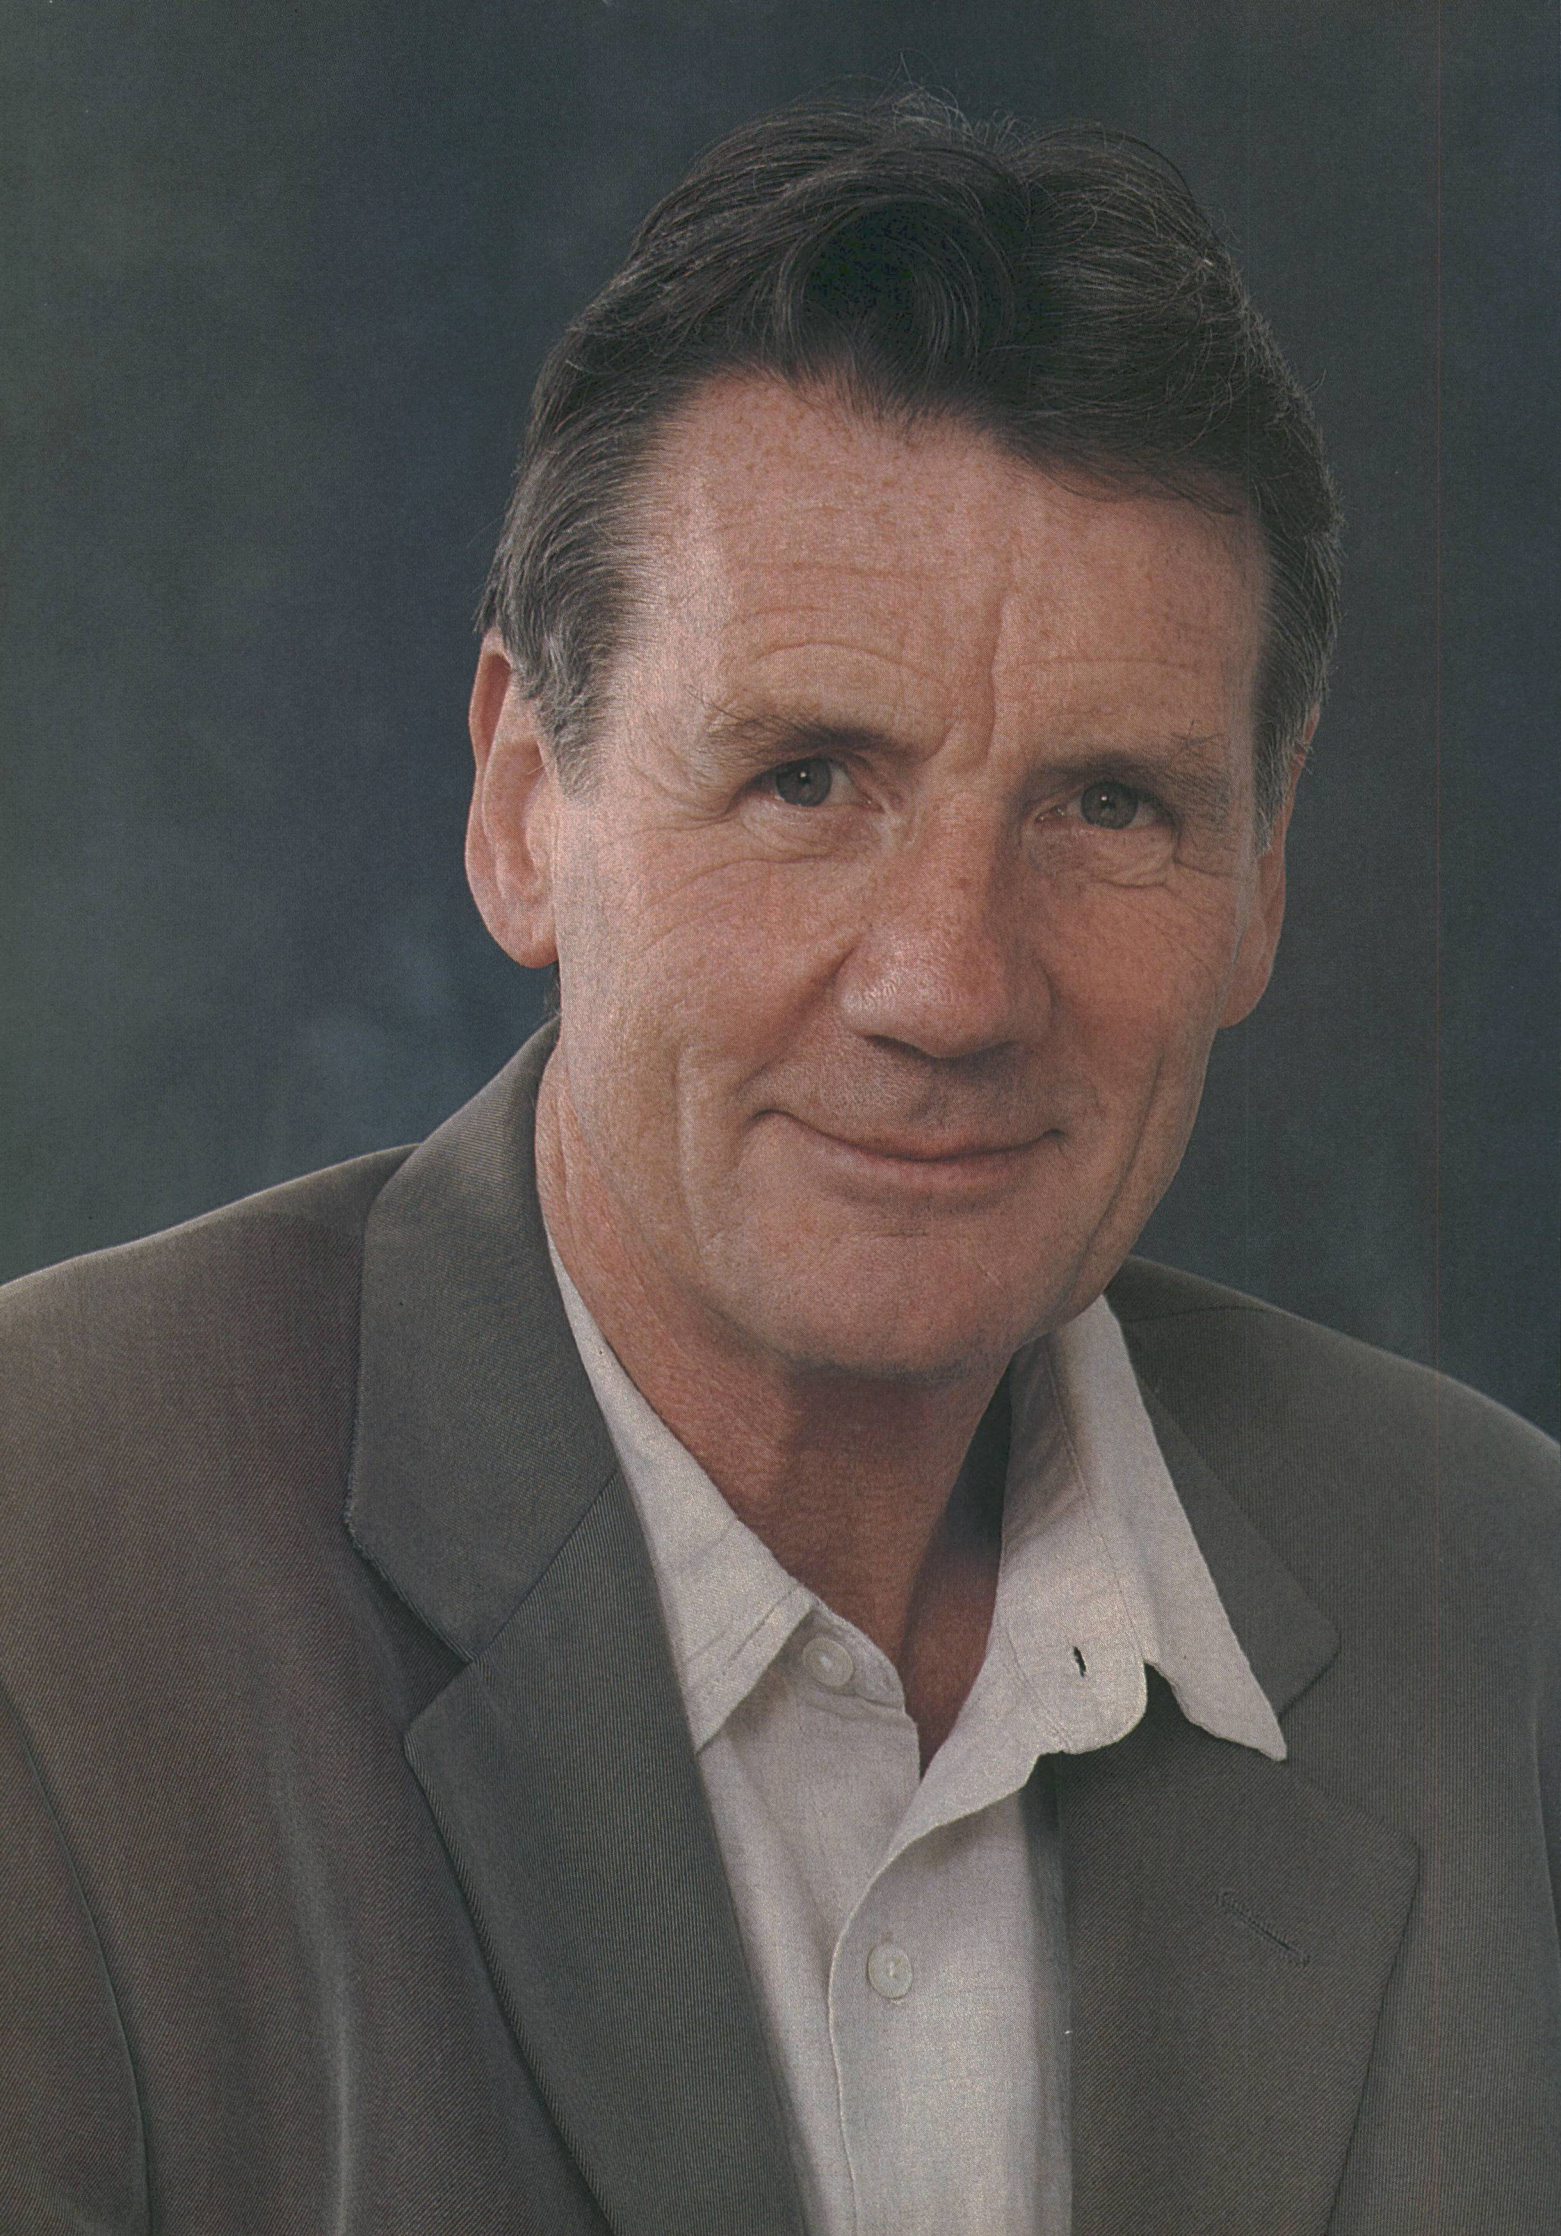
Jane (Suzanne Burden) Works as a nurse in a local hospital. Definitely not into housework and happy to live in a bit of a zoo. Her new boyfriend, Roger, lives next door with his 'children from hell'.

David (Ryan Cartwright) Roger's 16-year-old son. Scruffy and into motorbikes, he has a friend called Nosh, whom we never see, is keen on Emily for a while but is at the age where he is deeply unattractive to 15-year-old girls.

Roger (Ivan Kaye) Has a building company, and is divorced from his wife, Celia, who went off to India to find herself and is still looking. He's happy-go-lucky and suited to his girlfriend Jane.

Joe (Paul Terry) Colin and Jane's 11-year-old son. He's practical, very honest, messy, positive, sharp, has a pet boa constrictor called Mr Squeezy and a great capacity for causing mayhem.

Emily (Rebecca Hunter) Joe's 15-year-old sister. Looks out for him, as he does for her – although their relationship is potentially explosive. Into The Spice Girls and Friends and a boy called Jim, who works for Roger.



Palin's progress

The globetrotting exploits of Michael Palin in 'Full Circle' have inspired and amused millions of TV viewers. Brian Viner finds out why. Photo: Justine Bohan

UK Horizons

Full Circle: Daily from Monday 12th 9.00pm

MICHAEL Palin would not have become the new Alan Whicker if the old Alan Whicker, back in 1986, had agreed to make a travel series inspired by Jules Verne's classic novel, Around the World in 80 Days. When Whicker refused, BBC producer Clem Vallance asked Miles Kington and even Noel Edmonds, but both declined, so the offer plopped onto Palin's North London doormat 'at just the right time, because I had just finished A Fish Called Wanda'. And so an already varied career changed direction again.

Palin's wanderlust has not been extinguished by Around the World in 80 Days, and his subsequent hits Pole to Pole and Full Circle. In some ways the reverse is true, because he now yearns to visit the few parts of the globe he has missed, such as Argentina, and north-western Brazil. Indeed, the teams that took part in this summer's World Cup reminded him that he is still not as well-travelled as he might be. 'I still haven't been to Croatia,' he says. 'Or Paraguay.'

There is literally nowhere on earth, however, that Palin can be assured of anonymity. He recalls arriving at the South Pole after a hair-raising journey over the last 600 miles and being taken into the American base there. 'Outside, it was minus 40 degrees. Inside, I remember being hit by a blast of warm air, and seeing Americans in shorts queuing up for blueberry pie. I stood there with a frosted beard – it was like a Python sketch – and a guy came over and said, "We just love your Ripping Yarns." I nearly wept.'

Palin, who is a well-preserved 55, and even more engaging in person than he is on the telly (if that is possible), has no plans to return to the South Pole. He is about to make a three-part BBC series following the footsteps of his hero Ernest Hemingway, who inspired his debut novel Hemingway's Chair. But he considers it unlikely that he will make any more travel documentaries based on purely geographical challenges.

'My curiosity about the world is unlimited, but I don't want to be forced to make travel programmes for the rest of my life,' he says. 'I want to stop before it becomes formulaic. Besides, there would be an expectation that we would cap what had gone before, and I can't imagine a more varied journey than the one we made in Full Circle. That was the richest journey of all in terms of the countries we visited. Of course, it's also worth remembering that no one would ever go round the Pacific Rim like we did except for a television programme. Ideally, I would like to do more travelling on my own.'

That said, Palin got on famously with his six-strong camera crew. Other, more ego-driven presenters use the singular 'I' when referring to their televised adventures, but Palin, anxious to share the credit with the crew, habitually talks in terms of 'we'. And one of their most memorable, if not most pleasant experiences came during the making of Full Circle, when they visited the gulag camps of Siberia.

'It's impossible to know what those places are like until you've experienced what it takes to get to them,' says Palin. 'They are completely desolate and isolated. It's not as if there's even a nearby village. And standing there among half-derelict buildings, seeing piles of shoes made from rubber tyres, knowing there was absolutely no get-out for the people who lived there ... I don't know about the others, but I'd never experienced anything like that.'

Of course, Palin has brushed against the best of human nature as well as the worst, spending eight days on a dhow with a bunch of warm-hearted Gujerati fishermen, being feted in a small town up the Yangtze ... although special treatment can have its pitfalls. 'In that Chinese town they held a banquet at which I was the main guest, and gave me a strange rubbery thing covered in a thick sauce. Nobody told me what it was but after I'd eaten it, the cameraman said, "That was brave of you." "What was?" I said. "Eating that bull's penis," he replied.'

The local cuisine is one good reason for a Westerner not to settle in a small town on the Yangtze. 'I also ate snake in China, and got into terrible trouble with the Reptile Protection Trust,' Palin recalls. But if he were to live somewhere else in the world, a place that has seduced him on his travels, where might it be?

'I like the hothouse environment and I can understand why people go troppo,' he says. 'For instance, I have vivid memories of Sepahua, a little town in Peru on a tributary of the Amazon. People there really do sit around all day in big cane chairs. But I wouldn't really want to live there. I suppose I'm a city person, so if I were to move anywhere it would probably end up being one of the cities we visited in Full Circle, like Sydney or Vancouver, or Seattle. And I enjoyed Nagasaki in Japan.'

Palin is firmly rooted in Gospel Oak, North London, however, and is staying put unless his fellow Monty Python star John Cleese ever winds up on a desert island, for Cleese told Sue Lawley on Radio 4's Desert Island Discs that his luxury object would be Michael Palin, stuffed. 'If I'd been a woman there would have been an outcry,' says Palin. 'Actually, it fits in with Graham Chapman's theory, that Monty Python began because John fancied me.'

Talk of the Devils!

Manchester United is the world's first football club to have its own TV channel. Eddie Edson asks Alex Ferguson what's on

MUTV

Daily from 1 October
6.00pm-12midnight

AFTER a hard day managing the biggest football club in the world, Alex Ferguson must need to relax. Following 14 solid hours of organising training, haggling over players' contracts, signing new stars, and watching youth and reserve teams, he has to do something to escape from the trials and tribulations of Manchester United.

So what can he do of a match-free evening? Perhaps a nice quiet meal with the missus and a bottle of expensive wine. Maybe a trip to the cinema or a night out at the theatre. But chances are he'll plonk himself in front of the sofa and switch on MUTV.

Now, just like Fergie, Manchester United fans can turn on their TV sets and tune right into the heart of Old Trafford every night of the week. Barcelona may have the Pope as a member, Ajax may have a stadium with a sliding roof and Inter Milan may have Ronaldo but only United – the richest club in the world with a turnover of £80 million a year – have their own TV channel.

'I think it's a great idea,' said Ferguson at the channel's launch. 'It means our fans can get even closer to the club. They can see what goes on behind the scenes all week, not just on the pitch for 90 minutes on a Saturday.'

Live broadcasts of Ferguson's pre-match press conferences on Friday nights will be a crucial element of the channel, which broadcasts from 6.00pm to 12.00 midnight, seven days a week. United fans will also be able to huff and puff to aerobics exercise show Jump 'n' Pump, featuring the MUTV babes, get all the latest from Old Trafford in Red Hot News, test their knowledge of the club in the quiz show MasterFan, and even learn a few recipes from Jesper Jesperson – the club's very own head chef.

There will be replays of classic matches – from the days of George Best to the days of Bryan Robson – plus live reserve team and crucial youth team action.

'I'm looking forward to seeing a few Bobby Charlton goals,' said Ferguson. 'You don't see long range shots like that any more.'

For the record, when he's not watching MUTV Fergie says he likes to tune into old movies featuring his screen heroes: John Wayne, Jimmy Cagney, David Niven, Humphrey Bogart, Katharine Hepburn, or Albert Finney. Hmmm, Finney. Didn't he play for England in the fifties?

Everything you need to know about digital TV

New channels, interactivity, TV on-demand ... You've recently been hearing a lot about digital TV, but what will it mean for you? Over the coming months, as Cable & Wireless prepares to launch Britain's most comprehensive digital service, we'll be telling you all you need to know about the digital revolution

What exactly is digital TV?
Digital is a new way of transmitting TV signals. The advantage is that much more information can be transmitted than before, and that means more choice of channels and some new channels too.

What equipment will I need?
Digital channels will be transmitted through the existing cable network. But you will need a new set top box to replace the box you have now. Cable & Wireless will provide the new box for you.

Will I need to get a new TV?
No. Your current TV will still work once you have the new digital set top box connected to it.

How much extra will it cost me for the new set top box?
Nothing, but there will be a small installation fee, unless you are installed after 5th October 1998, which entitles you to a free digital upgrade.

What will the differences be?
The increased transmission capacity of digital will change the way we watch TV. For example, the same movie could be starting every 20 minutes all evening so that you can choose the time that suits you best. And some of the channels that share a frequency at the moment will get their own channel, so they can broadcast for longer. There will still be plenty of room for new channels, including a range of digital music and radio channels, with CD quality sound.

What is interactive TV?
In the near future, services like shopping, banking, travel, games, internet and e-mail will be available through digital television. Some TV programmes may have extra information that you'll be able to access if you want to. You'll be able to do things like book tickets, do your banking and go shopping using digital TV. There are endless possibilities for interactive TV, which will develop as time goes on.

How will I be able to keep track of what's on?
One of the services made possible with digital TV is the on-screen TV guide. This will help guide you to what you want to watch. You can also set the guide to remind you when your favourite programme is on.

How much will it cost me?
The Cable & Wireless digital service will offer you lots of different options, depending on what you want and when you want it. Our service will be the most comprehensive and the most flexible, so you can choose what suits you best. The price will depend on what sort of package you decide on. We'll soon be announcing more details of what we're offering and how much it will cost.

When will Cable & Wireless's digital service start?
Some of the brand new digital channels, such as Manchester United TV, are part of our new Cable & Wireless TV package (no need for a new set-top box) which starts this month. From spring 1999 you'll be invited to upgrade to our digital TV service and our interactive services will be launched soon after that.

Oh, Ro

At 23, angel-faced Leonardo DiCaprio has captivated cinema of a fair few females, too. Garth Pearce speaks to Hollywood's

LEONARDO DiCaprio does not look like a romantic hero. He has a slight build, is of average height and his face verges on pretty rather than handsome. But put him on screen and a remarkable transformation takes place. He looks bigger, more stylish and can turn on the charm in an instant. It is that special ability that has made him the biggest star in the world.

The fanatical following started in the wake of William Shakespeare's Romeo + Juliet. This is a brilliant adaptation of the play, accurate to every word of the 1594 original, but set in 1990s Verona Beach, USA, with rock music and a vibrant MTV style. If any film proves to a young audience that Shakespeare was the greatest storyteller of them all, then this is the one; stripped of all the stuffiness and freshly and energetically told.

Leonardo is the tragic Romeo, of course, and the excellent Claire Danes is Juliet, with their love set among feuding Mafia families. But the exuberance achieved by the director, Baz Luhrmann, who gave us Strictly Ballroom, would be lost without the energy of DiCaprio. The film won him the Best Actor award at last year's Berlin International Film Festival and set up his career as a romantic lead like nothing else could. Next came his role in Titanic, again playing the tragic lover in a film that has become the biggest box office hit of all time. It sparked a series of books, videos and fan clubs devoted to him. He loves some of the idolatry, perhaps; but there are also times when it terrifies him.

'Success has come early and there are many advantages to that,' he tells me. 'But I also know that there can be a big down side, too. My life is no longer my own and I need to do other things and develop other interests, otherwise there can be a price to pay. All I have done so far is work.'

It is good judgement. At 23, DiCaprio can no longer walk along a street unnoticed in any city on earth, and he is often photographed when he least expects it. A succession of girlfriends have all rushed in, the moment their affair ended, to sell and tell of nights of passion with Leo. It can make him guarded and anxious.

But one thing he has in his favour over many of the burned-out Hollywood twentysomethings who found fame too early and turned to drugs and drink – Christian Slater, Robert Downey Jr and Charlie Sheen, for example – is that he had a tough, unprivileged upbringing.

Although his face has an almost angelic quality, he was brought up in Echo Park, which, back then, was a seedy Los Angeles suburb of rundown shops, tawdry cafes, beggars and prostitutes. His hippy parents split before his first birthday. His father, George, produced underground comic books; his mother, Irmalin, raised him in a two-bedroom wooden bungalow, with junkies for neighbours. Such street education seemed the only thing that counted at his local school, which he left with few qualifications at 16.

'Money was always on my mind when I was growing up,' he says. 'If I am honest, that is what inspired me most to come into acting. I was aware that a lot of people in Los Angeles were earning great money. I was always wondering from where and how we were going to afford this and that. Acting seemed to be a short cut to getting out of the mess.

'I was lucky enough to get some auditions and commercials when I was 14 and 15 and then a part in a television show, Growing Pains, at 16, which turned me on to the whole process. I was hooked, not on the prospect of money any more, though that was great, but on the simple process of acting itself. I found I could think myself into parts and it gave me such a thrill.'

There began a succession of notable screen performances, with This Boy's Life, starring Robert De Niro, and What's Eating Gilbert Grape? for which his mentally impaired youngster won him an Oscar nomination at 20 for Best Supporting Actor. He played a heroin addict in The Basketball Diaries and the poet Rimbaud in Total Eclipse, in which he famously ended up having to kiss Britain's David Thewlis.

'It was my worst moment in films,' he reflects. 'He will probably kill me for saying this, but I hated kissing a guy. I guess men have more body heat or something, because girls' lips are cooler. His were like … hot. My stomach was turning after that.' More refreshingly, he also kissed Sharon Stone in The Quick and the Dead.

The modest budget style of Romeo + Juliet was much more to his taste than Titanic or the much-hyped The Man in the Iron Mask, released earlier this year, in which he worked with senior actors John Malkovich, Gérard Depardieu and Jeremy Irons. 'Big studio pictures always make me nervous,' he says. 'When I heard the budget for Titanic had reached nearly $200 million, for example, I nearly freaked.

'With Romeo + Juliet we felt all along that we were in this really cool little movie. The ideas that Baz Luhrmann had were just brilliant and the cast included people like Brian Dennehy and Pete Postlethwaite. These were not big name stars, just great actors. I am prejudiced against large-scale films, because they lack a lot of content.'

It has led to delays this year over his next big project. At the moment, despite rumours, nothing is signed. 'The strangest thing about Hollywood for me now is seeing things I wished and hoped for becoming a reality,' he says. 'It is a bizarre feeling, because even I don't believe it. I still need to get a grip on reality.'

Air Force One (Sky 15, L, V)
In this high-altitude thriller, the US President, played by Harrison Ford, is trapped on board a hijacked plane. Russian communist radicals (led by Gary Oldman) take command of the presidential aircraft Air Force One and threaten to kill one hostage every half-hour unless their leader is released. Also starring Glenn Close. Directed by Wolfgang Petersen.

Volcano (Sky 12, L)
Los Angeles is sitting on an erupting volcano, which spells disaster for the people. Mike Roark (Tommy Lee Jones) must mobililse the authorities to act, and the famed La Brea Tar Pits are revealed as the source. Helping him is sassy scientist Dr Amy Barnes (Anne Heche). Directed by Mick Jackson.

Austin Powers (Sky 15, V, M)
Mike Myers is Austin Powers, Britain's number one secret agent, in this hilarious spoof. In the Sixties, he volunteers for suspended animation and is defrosted 30 years on to find his old enemy terrorising the planet. However, things have changed considerably! Also starring Elizabeth Hurley. Directed by Jay Roach.

Booty Call (Sky 15, L, S)
This comedy follows two couples struggling to fathom the differences between love and lust. Bunz (Jamie Foxx) and Rushton (Tommy Davidson) are out to prove to Nikki (Tamala Jones) and Lysterine (Vivica A Fox) that they're worth a second date – and desperate measures are taken. Directed by Jeff Pollack.

Spawn (Sky 12)
A dark, spectacular tale of Spawn (Michael Jai White) – a former government assassin burned to death and allowed by the Devil to return to Earth for one last visit to his wife. But he soon finds himself pitted against Satan's representative on Earth (John Leguizamo). Directed by Mark Dippe.

The Game (Sky 15, L, V, M)
Michael Douglas plays Nicholas Van Orton, a selfish, self-obsessed investment banker tormented by his father's suicide. When his brother Conrad (Sean Penn) is released from rehab, he gives him an unusual present from a company claiming to devise devilish games for its wealthy clients. Before long, Nicholas' life starts falling apart. Directed by David Fincher.

Nothing to Lose (Sky 15, L, V, S)
In this fast-paced comedy, Nick Beam (Tim Robbins) discovers his wife is having an affair with his boss. In despair he hits the road and meets car thief T Paul (Martin Lawrence) who seizes the car and takes Nick as hostage. Nick, with nothing to lose now, decides to turn the tables on T Paul. Directed by Steve Oedekerk.

Contact (Sky PG)
Ellie Arroway (Jodie Foster) is a top scientist, working on a project to pick up extraterrestrial signals. One day, she starts picking up messages from a star named Vega and begins to translate them. They turn out to be a blueprint for some kind of machine – one that could carry a human to another world. Also starring Matthew McConaughey. Directed by Robert Zemeckis.

Maximum Risk (Sky 18, V)
This do-or-die action thriller sees Jean-Claude Van Damme at his energetic and acrobatic best. He plays a retired French soldier who journeys to New York to try to solve the murder of the twin brother he never knew existed. Adopting his dead sibling's identity, he descends into a world full of unimaginable dangers. Directed by Ringo Lam.

Family Plan (Sky PG)
Naked Gun star Leslie Nielsen heads the cast of this zany laugh-a-thon about a group of orphans who wage a war against a greedy developer who wants to turn their summer camp into a luxury holiday resort. Nielsen is hilarious as the clueless camp counsellor. Directed by Fred Gerber.

The Fifth Element (Sky PG, V)
Bruce Willis stars in this epic sci-fi thriller as a New York cab driver in the future who finds himself responsible for the safety of a young woman who holds the key to the universe's future. Gary Oldman is the villain who is out to stop them. Also starring: Milla Jovovich, Ian Holm. Directed by Luc Besson.

Dante's Peak (Sky 12, L)
Pierce Brosnan faces torrents of lava when a volcano erupts in this stunning disaster movie. He plays a vulcanologist whose predictions of major seismic activity in the town of Dante's Peak are proven to be shockingly accurate. Also starring: Linda Hamilton. Directed by Roger Donaldson.

The Devil's Own (Sky 15, L, V, M)
Harrison Ford and Brad Pitt star in a tense, edge-of-the-seat thriller about an Irish terrorist at large in the USA. Ford plays a New York City police officer who takes in an Irish house guest (Pitt). He begins to bond with the young man, completely unaware that his guest has a dark, violent past. Directed by Alan J Pakula.

Free Willy 3 (Sky U)
Willy the orca whale is back with his friend Jesse (Jason James Richter). This time Willy, Jesse and Jesse's adoptive father Randolph (August Schellenberg) must fight poachers who are trying to kill whales like Willy. One of the poachers is the father of Jesse's new friend. Directed by Sam Pillsbury.

Men in Black (Sky PG, V)
Stand by for the sci-fi spectacular that's taken the galaxy by storm! Will Smith stars as Agent J, the newest recruit to the secretive Men In Black, and with old hand Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones) he must find and stop an intergalactic terrorist in New York. Directed by Barry Sonnenfeld.

LA Confidential (Sky 15, L, V, S)
Detective Ed Exley (Guy Pearce) and his sidekick, Bud, are teamed up in this top-notch period thriller to solve a murder case. Assisting them is crooked Detective Jack Vincennes (Kevin Spacey). Bud and Ed find themselves drawn to Lynn Bracken (Kim Basinger) who could help them. Directed by Curtis Hanson.

WIN TITANIC VIDEOS

For his Oscar-laden pet project Titanic, film-maker James Cameron combined incredible computer-generated imagery and moments of searing intensity to powerful effect. With painstaking attention to authentic detail, the movie charts the ill-fated maiden voyage of the RMS Titanic in 1912. The luxury liner was considered unsinkable, but just before midnight on 14 April it struck an iceberg and sent over 1500 people to their deaths in the icy Atlantic. This emotionally exhausting epic focuses largely on a romance between Kate Winslet's rich, troubled 17-year-old and Leonardo DiCaprio's poor but happy artist travelling in third class.

To celebrate Twentieth Century Fox Home Entertainment's retail release of Titanic on 19 October, Cable Guide is giving away ten copies of the widescreen video, worth £17.99 each.

To enter, simply us send the answer to the following question on a postcard by 31 October:

WHAT IS THE FULL TITLE OF JAMES CAMERON'S SEQUEL TO 'THE TERMINATOR'?

Send your entry to TITANIC Competition, Cable Guide, 172 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P OJJ. The usual rules apply.

SCREEN TRENDS

Villains. Where would you be without those you love to hate? Bet you can hardly wait to see them get what they deserve. IVAN WATERMAN targets some notorious baddies beaming down in October.

A LITTLE PRINCESS

Britain's own Eleanor Bron turns up as the dreaded Miss Minchin, the laser-lipped headmistress of a girls' boarding school, where the pupils are lucky to get a burnt crust for tea. Enter the delightful Liesel Matthews as the apparently orphaned Sara Crewe. And let the battle commence. Not a dry eye in the house, and, in true Dickensian spirit, the magnificent Ms Bron is still breathing flames well into the final reel. Superb.
SKY MOVIEMAX THURSDAY 1ST

THE TAKING OF PELHAM ONE TWO THREE

The late, great Robert Shaw always brought something unique to his performances. In this underrated thriller, which is set largely on the New York subway, cold, meticulous gang leader Shaw takes a train load of hostages and demands $1m as ransom for their release. (The gang's colour-coded nicknames, by the way, were an obvious influence on Quentin Tarantino's Reservoir Dogs.) His rival is Transit Authority detective Walter Matthau, who plots his next move in the subway control room like a skilful chess player.
SKY CINEMA SUNDAY 18TH

STAR TREK: FIRST CONTACT

For pure oddity value, the lovely Alice Krige must rank as cinema's most unlikely ranting harridan. Her porcelain features and soothing manner never exactly suggested that she'd be playing vile aliens. But in this most recent Star Trek movie she is a smasheroonie as the seductive but deadly Borg Queen. Never have so many make-up experts struggled to make a beauty quite so hideous!
SKY PREMIER SATURDAY 10TH

THE HILL

The sadly missed Ian Hendry was always in his element when playing cruel characters – and they didn't come more unpleasant than his role in this classic. Director Sidney Lumet's brutal drama, set in a military prison in North Africa, was peppered with fine performances, from Sean Connery's rebellious prisoner to Harry Andrews's terrifying sergeant major. But Hendry excelled as the sadistic staff sergeant who had inmates march endlessly up and down a man-made hill in the prison yard.

IN THE FRAME

ANTONY WORRALL THOMPSON

What's your favourite movie?
Blue Velvet.
Who is your favourite actor and why?
Dennis Hopper. I love his sense of evil.
Who is your favourite actress and why?
Jodie Foster. She's a brilliant actress.
What's your first movie memory?
Old Yeller about a dog who had to be shot at the end. Tears flooding or what?
What's your favourite movie memory?
The boat trip in The African Queen.
What's your scariest movie moment?
Most of The Exorcist.
What's your favourite comedy and why?
Any of Norman Wisdom's films.
What's your favourite horror movie?
The Shining – great special effects and you felt for Jack Nicholson, whose mind was destroyed by evil forces. A real spine-chiller.
What's your favourite sci-fi film?
Alien and Aliens.
Sigourney Weaver was a butch but beautiful hero.
What's your favourite weepie and why?
Love Story. It really choked me up as an impressionable youth.
What's your favourite movie quote?
Norman Wisdom's 'MR GRIMSDALE!'

Antony Worrall Thompson can be seen in 'Antony's Morocco' on Carlton Food Network Thursdays at 1.30pm from 17th.

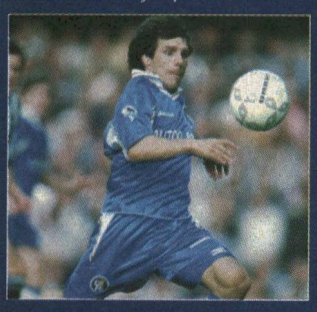
MATCH OF THE MONTH

LIVERPOOL v CHELSEA

Sky Sports 1 Sunday 4th 3.00pm – LIVE



LIVERPOOL take on Chelsea in a game that pits some of the best home-grown talent against the Premiership's most glamorous foreign imports.
Liverpool are led by Michael Owen, one of the hottest talents in the world and not far behind him is Steve McManaman.
By contrast, Chelsea's Italian player-manager, Gianluca Vialli, has opted to bring in the cream of continental football in a squad that includes three other Italians, three Frenchmen, a Dane, a Dutchman, a Romanian, a Nigerian and a Uruguayan.

Chelsea's Gianfranco Zola: a leading player among football's 'foreign imports'

Chelsea have only two English players in the regular starting line-up – Dennis Wise and Graeme Le Saux. Some argue that foreign imports are stifling the development of English talent. One critic is McManaman, who says: 'Too often the English public go overboard because a player is exotic and unknown. They see a little bit of skill that gets exaggerated and that player becomes the best thing since sliced bread.'
McManaman stresses that he's not opposed to world-class foreign stars such as Chelsea's Marcel Desailly and Gianfranco Zola, but is concerned about the influx of cheaper players.
'Nobody could argue about these sorts of players because they are quality internationals, but if you go slightly lower the skill level drops and then players have no more to offer than British players.'

A dejected England face Bulgaria in a 'make-or-break' match

HOME SIDES NEED HOME VICTORIES

England and Scotland badly need maximum points from their crunch home games to give their Euro 2000 campaigns a boost

ENGLAND V BULGARIA

Sky Sports 2 Saturday 10th 2.00pm – LIVE

ALAN SHEARER leads England in a make-or-break European Championship clash against Bulgaria at Wembley, insisting victory would wipe away the memories of two nightmare defeats.

It will be England's first home game since the World Cup, when they lost on penalties to Argentina, and comes a month after a frustrating 2-1 defeat in Sweden. That result, the first match of the European Championship 2000 qualifying campaign, makes the Bulgaria clash absolutely vital to England's hopes of reaching the finals in Holland and Belgium, and Shearer insists they are up to it.

'I'm not going to say we're going to win the European Championship,' he said, 'but we expect to do well, and there is a lot of expectation from other countries for England to do well, too. A lot of the players want to get the World Cup defeat by Argentina out of their systems. I went over it a lot in my head when I was laying awake at nights. To lose to Sweden after that, though, was tough. The players take responsibility for that, but we don't want to press the panic button. It's not too late to put it right and I still believe we will reach the finals.'

England will be without David Beckham against the Bulgarians, because he is still suspended after his sending-off against Argentina. Fellow midfielder Paul Ince, sent off against Sweden, will also be on the sidelines and that makes the job even tougher.

Bulgaria, who reached the semi-finals of the World Cup in 1994, are now going through a transitional period. Emil Kostadinov up front and Krassimir Balakov in midfield are the men to look out for.

Colin Calderwood

SCOTLAND'S goalless draw with Lithuania in Vilnius last month may not have been the most auspicious start to their Euro 2000 qualifying campaign, but as defender Colin Calderwood points out, it shows how little separates established football nations from the tiny newcomers. Where Scotland would once have been expected to win convincingly against the likes of the Baltic states and the Faroe Islands, they are now happy to pick up as many points as they can. As Tottenham defender Calderwood says: 'A goalless draw against Lithuania might seem a terrible result, but they are the best of the Baltic countries we have faced. The main thing is to win your home games and pick up points where you can. The Czechs only scored against the Faroe Islands in the last few minutes, which shows how the gap in class is getting narrower.'

Before their meeting with the Faroes, Scotland face Estonia again. Both games will be played at club grounds while Hampden Park is being redeveloped.

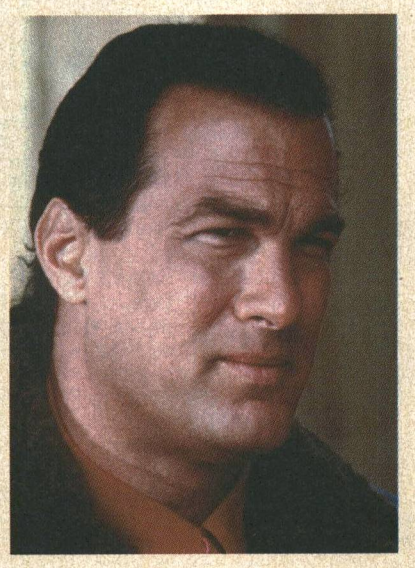
GOOD EVANS!

Prepare for a wacky wake up call as Sky One films the Chris Evans Breakfast Show on Virgin Radio while the carrot-topped media maestro is on air. Each weekday morning, Evans and his motley crew – including Holly 'Hotlips' Samos, Johnny Boy Revell, Jamie Broadbent and producer Dan McGrath – will be wreaking 60 minutes of mayhem on your screens. This live programme provides a unique and unusually intimate glimpse at how the controversial cult radio show is put together, and, ironically, may even prove to be a serious rival to Channel 4's The Big Breakfast, the TV show that made Evans a household name.
Sky One from Monday 5th 7.30am

EASY RIDERS

The world's leading two-wheel speed freaks head down under this week to burn some rubber in the Australian Motorcycling Grand Prix on Phillip Island. The 500cc category could turn into a fiercely fought grudge race between home favourite Mick Doohan and his old rival, Spain's Alex Criville, who clocked in at a brisk 42mins 53secs to scoop last year's title. Meanwhile, young British contender Jay Vincent (pictured), the son of nine-time British sidecar champ Chris Vincent, has shown promising form in the 250cc championship and could pose a few problems for the veterans. Whatever the outcome of the individual categories, plenty of tyre-screeching excitement is assured on the gruelling 27 lap course.
Eurosport Sunday 4th 3.15am



STILL HARD TO KILL

Impassive-faced action hero Steven Seagal may lack the loose-limbed grace of a Jean-Claude Van Damme or a Jackie Chan, but he always brings an air of darkly brooding danger to his films, the like of which they simply cannot muster. While his early bullets-and-brawn adventures, like Hard to Kill and Marked for Death, rooted him in the tradition of such old school tough guys as Charles Bronson, this week's Sky Movies Exclusive presentation, The Patriot, sees Seagal returning to the eco-conscious territory he staked out in his 1994 directorial debut On Deadly Ground. An edgy, against-the-clock thriller that makes some angry statements about chemical weapons, The Patriot casts Seagal as a rural doctor specialising in alternative medicine who is forced to draw on his knowledge of immunology when a killer virus is unleashed upon his town.

LIVE EURO TOUR GOLF SKY SPORTS 1 1.00PM

It's coming towards the end of the European golf season and the chase for the leadership of the Order of Merit has been one of the hottest and most fiercely fought for years. Lee Westwood has led for much of the year, but Darren Clarke has been hot on his heels, and the defending number one, Colin Montgomerie (right), certainly won't be giving up without a fight. Today is the opening day of live ball-by-ball coverage of the Belgacom Open from the Royal Zoute Club, Belgium, which will go someway toward deciding who will finish on top.

LIVE COMPAQ GRAND SLAM TENNIS SKY SPORTS 2 1.00PM

The best eight players in the world will be gathering in Munich this week for this tournament, which matches the men who have performed best in the grand slam events of the year. Tim Henman's semi-final placing at Wimbledon and his impressive performance at the US Open last month should ensure he attends, while the appearance of the injury-prone Greg Rusedski may be more in doubt. It's a round robin format to start, ensuring that each player competes in at least three matches. Today is the start of the knock-out stage.

STAR OF THE MONTH PERI GILPIN

BACKGROUND ... Named after a Disney cartoon character, Peri the squirrel, Gilpin was born in Waco in Dallas on 27 May 1961. As a nipper, she was encouraged to act by her mother (who was a model and appeared in several TV commercials herself) and she went to the Dallas Theater Center from the age of eight. Starting young meant that stage fright was taken care of early on. 'I never had terrible nerves about it,' she says confidently. Of her acting career, Gilpin has always had faith in what she was doing. 'I didn't want to do anything else. I knew I wanted to be an actress more than anything. I never really felt like I'd go into another field.'
FAMOUS FOR ... Gilpin's big break came when she landed a spot on Frasier as lead character Frasier Crane's assistant. The inspiration for her character came from working with the late producer Roz Doyle on the sit com Wings.
ALSO SEEN IN ... The Outer Limits, Cheers, Designing Women
LOOK OUT FOR ... Peri is currently working on a movie drama called Spring Forward.

LIVE BASKETBALL SKY SPORTS 1 7.00PM

The British basketball season is under way and tonight's clash is a capital derby. The Greater London Leopards play the London Towers at the London Arena, which has just undergone a massive £5m refurbishment. The prestigiousness of the venue slightly overwhelms the sport, but the two teams are still doing their best to win over enough fans to keep basketball popular in the UK. The Leopards were the top team of last season and should be good to watch again this time around, while the Towers are always spirited rivals.

FOOTBALL: EURO 2000 PHONE-IN SKY SPORTS 1 9.00PM

Sky Sports were so chuffed with their World Cup phone-ins during France 98 that they have persisted with the format for this month's European Championship games, and will ask the ever-helpful soccer public to debate whether the Home Nations will make it to Euro 2000. Sprinkled with exciting action footage of players like Owen and Beckham, these programmes are worth a few minutes of your valuable viewing time, depending on the panel of experts lined up to explain the minds of the national team managers.

FILM

Antonia's Line
Sky Cinema 12midnight
A warm, wonderful tragi-comic tale from Holland, this Oscar winner for best foreign film concerns a woman returning to her home town and becoming the leader of a bunch of waifs and strays. The film, which unfolds largely in flashback, is gorgeously photographed and the characters are all pleasingly zany.

LIVE GREYHOUND RACING SKY SPORTS 1 8.00PM

The Evening Standard Trophy takes place tonight at Wimbledon Stadium in south London. This is perhaps the most fondly regarded dog race in the world and returns to this venue for the first time in 40 years. It's still the initial heats this evening, with three races each featuring six dogs. Although it's more fun to be at track side for this kind of sporting event, a television evening in at the dogs still has a special atmosphere. Why not have a bet yourself to liven things up?

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL
SKY SPORTS 3 4.30PM

The divisional play-offs are currently under way in baseball's search for the World Series participants. The likes of the Atlanta Braves and the New York Yankees are sure to lead the race to get there, but teams such as the Seattle Mariners still boast their fair share of mean hitters – among the Mariners' big sluggers is Ken Griffey Jr. (right) – who have the power to upset the balance. The sport may bemuse first-time British viewers, but a fiercely fought and tightly edited baseball game equals excellent sporting viewing.

LIVE SUPER LEAGUE PLAY OFFS SKY SPORTS 1 7.00PM

The Super League season comes to a climax with the highly competitive play off system. The competition features the top five teams, with one being knocked out each week before the Grand Final at Old Trafford later this month. Tonight's coverage is of one of the semi-finals in a sport that has changed its image so drastically in the last couple of years that a high-scoring game is guaranteed. So is the fact that the Australians and New Zealanders will play starring roles in the winning teams. Wigan Warriors (whose Andy Farrell is pictured) are among the favourites.

ENTERPRISE ALLOWANCE

While Star Trek: First Contact marks the eighth cinematic voyage of the USS Enterprise, it's the first film in the franchise to focus exclusively on the starship troopers of the Next Generation (the veterans of the original series passed the cinematic torch to Captain Jean-Luc Picard and his crew in 1994's Star Trek: Generations). Patrick Stewart's Captain Picard may still be in charge of the Enterprise, but Jonathan Frakes, who plays Commander Riker, is at the directorial helm. He skilfully steers the film through a gripping time-travel plot that pits the crew against the deadly Borg. All the Next Generation favourites, including Brent Spiner as Data and Michael Dorn as Worf, are present, and Babe star James Cromwell makes an enjoyable impression as an eccentric rocket scientist upon whose shoulders the fate of the Earth rests.

Sky Premier Saturday 10th 8.00pm

TARTAN ATTACK

Craig Brown will be looking for a resounding result from his side as Scotland take on Estonia at the Tynecastle Stadium, Edinburgh, in their first home game of the Euro 2000 campaign. Scotland's recent record against the Estonians – a scoreless draw away and a 2-0 win at home, one of five consecutive victories en route to the World Cup – suggest that they should win this game. But after the poor result in Lithuania, where their strikers didn't even manage one clear-cut scoring chance, Scotland look unlikely to break their run of nine games on the trot without a win.

Sky Sports 1 Saturday 10th 2.00pm – LIVE

JAWS – THE REVENGE

Just when you thought it was safe to turn on your telly, Discovery go and devote a whole week of programmes to sharks. Boasting ten premiere programmes, Shark Week sets about correcting the misinformation such films as Jaws have given about this majestic and misunderstood marine creature.

Discovery from Sunday 11th 8.00am

QUALIFYING SUCCESS?

England play their first home game of the European Championship qualifying matches this week. The squad faces an unpredictable Bulgarian team, currently being rebuilt after a disappointing World Cup – they went out after the first stage, losing 6-1 to Spain in their last game. After the defeat in Sweden, England need to win this game if they are to qualify automatically for Euro 2000 as group winners or as best-placed runners-up.

LIVE CYCLING EUROSPORT 9.30AM

The World Championships will be watched by cycling fans more closely than ever before, but mainly because of the allegations and controversy surrounding the Tour de France. Today is the last day of racing in the Netherlands, and who knows which riders will be taking part in the Elite Men's Road Race over 258km. Last year Italian rider Laurent Brochard took the gold medal in San Sebastian, Spain. Britain's Chris Boardman (right) should be fit and ready to race, and stands a good chance today.

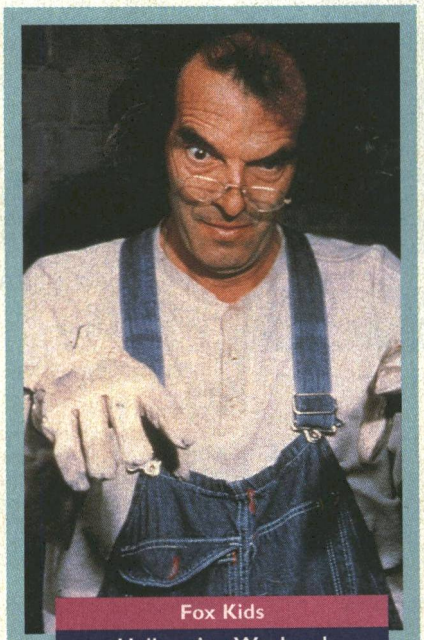
WIN ANASTASIA VIDEOS!

20th Century Fox Home Entertainment's Anastasia is one of the most beautiful animated features of recent years. It's the story of a lost Russian princess who searches for her real identity and features the voices of Meg Ryan as Anastasia and John Cusack as the dashing Dimitri. To celebrate its video release on 5 October, we have 10 copies, worth £16.99 each, to give away. To enter, answer this question:

What country was Anastasia from?

Send to Anastasia Competition, Cable Guide, 172 Tottenham Court Rd, London W1P OJJ by 31 October. First 10 correct entries drawn win. Usual rules apply.



Fox Kids

Hallowe'en Weekend
Starts Saturday 31st

GIVE YOURSELF GOOSEBUMPS ...

Chill out with a spooky Hallowe'en Goosebumps weekend on your brand new children's channel, Fox Kids. They'll be showing back-to-back episodes of spine tingling Goosebumps favourites based on the best-sellers by chill master R L Stine. Enjoy the terror of a kids' summer camp that not only has spooks to contend with, but also the horrors of stinky food. Meet the 12-year-old who grows dark spiky hair where it shouldn't grow and tune in to the first ever screening of the three-part Goosebumps adventure called Chillogy, which is about Jessica, a girl who lives to make money but who is so mean she won't give her brother an interest-free loan to buy their mother a present. Find out what happens to her when she gets sucked into the miniature world of Karlsville. So make a date in your diary with Fox Kids – there's a good chance they'll be featuring your favourite Goosebumps episode.

Nickelodeon

Catdog
Weekdays 4.30pm

TWO HEADS ARE BETTER THAN ONE

This month, Nickelodeon brings you Catdog, a brand new and totally different Nicktoon featuring the world's first two-headed toon character who's half dog and half cat. The cartoon chronicles Catdog's comical misadventures – this canine-feline duo is the best of friends, except when they want to do different things! 'Dog' is innocent in the ways of the world and is happy to chase the garbage truck through town, forgetting to think about his other half. 'Cat' is cool and has life figured except when Dog is in control – and then the fur really flies. But the two of them really can't do without each other and, even when times get tough, they remain the best of friends.

AND THE WINNERS ARE ...

Throughout the summer you've been telling Disney Channel what you really, really want by voting for a few of your favourite things in the Kids Awards – categories included your favourite pop star, favourite TV star, favourite sport star, favourite magazine and favourite soap. Well now comes the moment of truth! Sunday 4 October is finals day and a galaxy of stars and celebrities, including OTT and Boyzone, will be helping with the festivities, as well as making important announcements. Nominees include Baby Spice, Louise, Leonardo DiCaprio and Will Smith, along with World Cup hero Alan Shearer. So tune in to find out what you, the kids of this country, really think.

LIVE STOKE CITY V CHESTERFIELD SKY SPORTS 2 7.00PM

We go to Stoke City's Britannia Stadium for a Division Two contest with Chesterfield. Not so many years ago this fixture would have been unimaginable outside of the cup competitions, but Stoke (whose Graham Kavanagh is pictured) have fallen from grace along with a few other big clubs. Now with Brian Little as their manager, the club has a chance to begin the long process of rehabilitation. Little has the expertise in the lower leagues to buy and play his way out of trouble, something for which Chesterfield manager John Duncan has also shown talent.

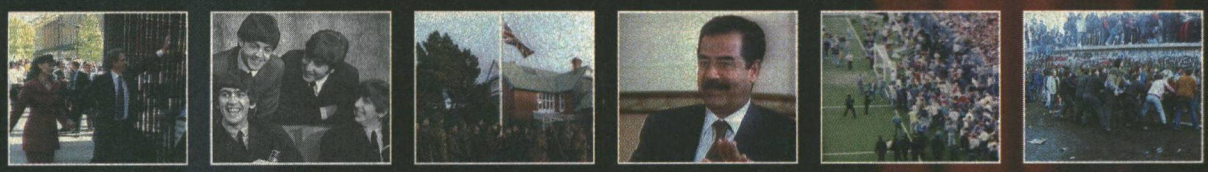
WATCH AND WIN A PIECE OF HISTORY WORTH £5,000

P L A Y B A C K



Tune into Playback on Sunday 27th September and Sunday 4th October and you could win our top prize worth £5,000.

Playback is a brand new series exclusive to The History Channel. In six programmes, host Valerie Singleton asks some of Britain's most famous men to choose and discuss historic moments which have made an impact on their own lives.
By sharing these moments with Playback's guests you could win our grand prize worth £5,000 - a weekend in London and a visit to a prestigious auction house where an expert will bid with your prize money for a piece of the past which could become an investment in the future! Or you could win one of two weekly prizes - £500 to be bid for a piece of history.

How to enter

To qualify for the grand prize draw, watch Playback on the above dates and identify which of the following quotations can be attributed to our programme guests Tony Benn and Rodney Marsh. Then call the special competition line on 0870 240 2002.

Correctly identify the source of two of these quotations and you could win our top bid - or correctly identify one to win the £500 bid.

1) "What we didn't know, and how could we, is that they were going to become legends, it was going to go on forever."

2) "A nation without a memory is a nation that doesn't know where it came from, where it is or where it is going."

3) "It always seems to take a tragedy and a big event to change things."

Call 0870 240 2002 to enter

PLAYBACK

MOTOR RACING
SKY SPORTS 2 4.00PM, 8.00PM

High-speed, all-action drama with the stars of the Indy Racing League in the latest meeting, the Indy Las Vegas 500. Staged at the Las Vegas Motor Speedway – a 1.5 mile oval circuit constructed in the 'bigger-the-better' tradition of the entertainment and gambling mecca – some of the fastest drivers in the world will chase the title over 208 laps. In last year's meeting, the current title holder Eliseo Salazar triumphed in a race where the average speed was over 143mph and the fastest lap recorded was a staggering 226mph.

"Please take your seats, class"

Roxanne

begins her very first day at school'

With butterflies in her tummy and pencil and notebook at the ready, Roxanne takes her seat at her brand-new desk. And she prepares herself for the most exciting day of her life. Because now, she's "almost a grown-up", you see.

Immaculately dressed in her new green-and-white checked uniform, she's made sure her straw boater is on straight. Her well-brushed hair shines in a perfect plait, complete with matching green ribbon. And from her bright little face to her polished shoes, she looks a picture - just the way you did on your first day at school.

Handcrafted in fine porcelain

Made of the finest porcelain, each feature is impeccably crafted and hand-painted. In fact, she looks so lifelike sitting on her little wooden chair, you almost expect her to raise her hand to ask the teacher a question.

Roxanne is made exclusively for Westminster Editions by Alberon Dolls with a strict edition limit of only 7,500 and each one features the Official Alberon Dolls Backstamp as its own guarantee of quality.

- Designed in England and crafted from the finest porcelain
- Delicate, hand-painted features
- Superb quality and beautifully detailed
- Individually hand-numbered within the edition limit of 7,500
- Certificate of Authenticity

Strictly limited to only 7,500, Roxanne is 14" tall - and comes complete with her own desk and chair.

Alberon Dolls

STRICT LIMITED EDITION OF ONLY 7,500 CRAFTED BY ONE OF BRITAIN'S LEADING NAMES IN PORCELAIN

LIMITED EDITION Guarantee

When Roxanne arrives, she'll be hand-numbered and accompanied by a similarly hand-numbered Certificate of Authenticity guaranteeing her limited edition status.

To avoid disappointment, be sure you order now. Complete and return the Order Coupon opposite - or for faster service, call our Express Order Line on 01923 475 575 or by Fax on 01923 477 682.

GENERAL

Dharma and Greg
Granada Plus 1.00pm & 7.00pm
This brand new US series is a vibrant and quirky romantic comedy starring an upper-class blue-blooder and a girl born of hippy parents. It's a case of opposites attracting, but if only the rest of their families felt so in love with each other. Mind you, then we would have nothing to laugh about!

LIVE INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL SKY SPORTS 1 7.00PM

Scotland face the Faroe Isles tonight in a European Championship qualifier at Pittodrie in Aberdeen. This is a match Scotland will expect to win – after all they are playing a team made up of part-timers. But in a group where goal difference may be a deciding factor, Craig Brown will remind his players of the importance of a big win to strengthen their chances of qualification. The World Cup performances of men like John Collins will give the team encouragement that the goal chances can be set up, it just needs the Scottish strikers to start converting a few more.

In Love and War
Sky Premier 8.00pm
Chris O'Donnell, the Robin to George Clooney's Batman, plays the young Ernest Hemingway, in this premiere. The story follows him off to war where, wounded, he wakes up to find nurse Sandra Bullock staring right at him. Well, what's a great novelist of the future to do except fall in love?

GENERAL

The Saint
Granada Plus 10.00pm
The cinematic update of The Saint, which chronicles the adventures of the gentleman thief created by novelist Leslie Charteris, makes its bow on Sky Premier this month (Saturday 24th), but why not re-acquaint yourself with the TV series of the Sixties? Roger Moore is effortlessly suave in the title role of this cult show.

LIVE MOTORCYCLING EUROSPORT 7.15PM

This year's Motorcycling World Championship has seen some spectacular races and the penultimate race of the season, the Brazilian Grand Prix at the Nelson Piquet circuit in Rio de Janeiro, is sure to be no exception. Last year's 125cc winner, Valentino Rossi (right) of Italy, steps up a class, but is an outside bet to win this year as favourites Mick Doohan and Max Biaggi battle it out for the 250cc championship. The competition between these two riders has been so fierce that race fans will be on the edge of their seats right up to the end of the season.

SECTION THREE

Saturday 17th October – Friday 23rd October

BARD ATTITUDE

Aimed largely at romantic teens who prefer their Bard riddled with bullets and enwrapped in stylish pop promo packaging, the acclaimed William Shakespeare's Romeo + Juliet excels as an exhilarating and accessible modern-day make-over of the tragic romance. Visually, the film is an energetic mixture of flashy camera angles and edgy MTV-style editing, but director Baz Luhrmann, of Strictly Ballroom fame, directs with real reverence for the play's original text. The star-crossed lovers of the title are tenderly fleshed out by Titanic heartthrob Leonardo DiCaprio and Claire Danes (who recently gave an excellent performance in John Grisham's The Rainmaker), while supplying sterling support against the designer backdrops are John Leguizamo as Romeo's arch-nemesis Tybalt, and the always-reliable Pete Postlethwaite as Friar Laurence.

Sky Premier Saturday 17th 10.00pm

THE HEAT IS ON

Prickly Heat, a rambunctious new series on Sky One, is unlike any game show you've ever seen, combining the shamelessly bawdy fun of a Club 18-30s beach game with the style of the fly-on-the-wall documentary. Hosts Julian Clary and Davina McCall provide the naughty comedy factor while putting 32 contestants through their paces in a series of crazy games under the sunny Mallorcan skies. But the fun doesn't stop when all the seaside antics have finished for the day, as the cameras tag along after contestants and spy on them sampling the sun, scenery and nightlife of the island.

SPACE OPERA

Fans of Sky One's Emmy award-winning science fiction series Star Trek: Deep Space Nine are rewarded with the start of the sixth season this week. The show has an almost operatic quality and benefits from some of the finest scripts of the entire Star Trek franchise. A sense of hopelessness informs the opening episode, 'A Time to Stand', as it is becoming increasingly clear that the Federation is losing the war.

LIVE TENNIS - WTA TOUR EUROSPORT 2.00PM

Tennis action from the most important indoor event on the WTA Tour – the European Indoor Championships in Zurich, Switzerland. An incredibly talented 14-year-old, current world number one Martina Hingis, made here WTA debut here in 1994. As ever, Zurich attracts the top players on the tour, including Jana Novotna (right). But Hingis will need to rediscover some of that old magic if she is to win this event again, and keep her prized number one ranking from such young pretenders as Venus Williams and last year's winner, Lindsay Davenport.

Just send us a photo of your child. And we will turn them into a video star overnight -It's a wonderful present!

BULK DISCOUNTS! SEE BELOW FOR DETAILS.

All it takes to make dreams come true is a photograph of your child – preferably smiling and in colour – which will be returned unharmed with the video, so you needn't worry about parting with a favourite picture.
The photo is then scanned into a computer and placed into the cartoon. The animation is of the highest quality. With full colour and a synchronised sound track - just like a professional cartoon.

The video tapes make a treasured gift for children as well as a wonderful keepsake for parents and grandparents.
Now anyone can be the star of their very own cartoon video adventure! We are expecting massive demands for these videos so order now to beat the rush! They're the ideal personalised gift for holidays, Birthdays or other special occasions. We guarantee your child will be absolutely delighted or your money back!

IT'S AS EASY AS 1,2,3!

1. Choose from video cartoon adventures listed.
2. Send a full face front view photo of the star (1 child per video).
   Don't forget to write your child's name on the back of each photo.
3. We send you back the video starring your child and your photo, unmarked and intact.

LIVE COVENTRY V SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY SKY SPORTS 1 3.00PM

The tale of two young managers – Danny Wilson at Sheffield Wednesday and Gordon Strachan at Coventry City – is the sub-plot to this Premiership clash. Since Wilson's move across Yorkshire from Barnsley, and with the Italian stars Paolo Di Canio (right) and Benito Carbone producing ever more delightful football, the confidence around Sheffield is almost palpable. Meanwhile Strachan, after last season's success, appears to have left behind the traditional relegation battle at Highfield Road, and a European place is not beyond his team.

History's Greatest Art Discovery.

Twelve Miniature Fine Art Re-creations.
Intricately Sculpted in Porcelain. Lavishly Accented with 22 Carat Gold.

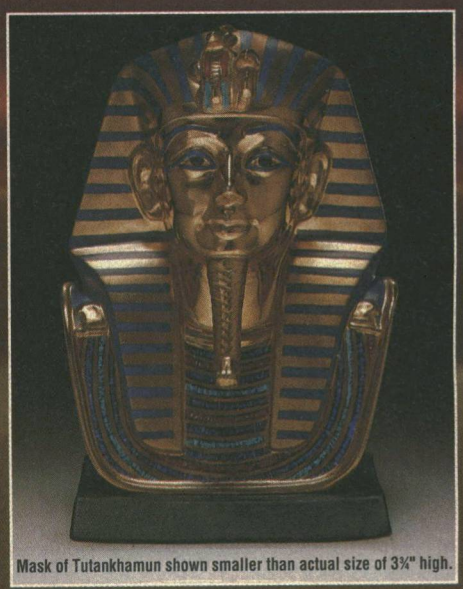
Brass and glass display shown much smaller than actual size of approximately 22" (55.8 cm) in height.

The incredible tomb of the young Egyptian king, Tutankhamun. Filled with priceless treasures uncovered after more than 3,000 years. The most significant now selected by a panel of Egyptologists. Intricately re-created by Franklin Mint. Each one sculpted in porcelain, then decorated by hand in regal jewel-toned colours and 22 carat gold.

Each exquisite miniature is just £59, payable in convenient monthly instalments. The brass and glass display is provided as part of the collection. History's greatest art discovery, re-created for today's collectors.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

If you wish to return any Franklin Mint purchase, you may do so within 30 days of your receipt of that purchase for replacement, credit or refund.



Mask of Tutankhamun shown smaller than actual size of 3¾" high.

FILM

The Postman Always Rings Twice
TNT 11.30pm
Classic film noir from 1946, starring John Garfield and Lana Turner, about two lovers who decide to murder her husband after beginning a passionate affair. A far superior version than the 1981 outing with Jack Nicholson and Jessica Lange, Turner and Garfield sizzle as the callous conspirators.

GENERAL

Turner's Tour of Hong Kong
Carlton Food Network 2.00pm
Celebrity chef Brian Turner presents this 13-part series that explores the many culinary delights of Hong Kong. With 5000 years of Chinese history in places like the Middle Kingdom theme park and spectacular sites like the exotic bird market, Brian has lots of ideas when he gets to the kitchen.

LIVE LEICESTER CITY V TOTTENHAM SKY SPORT 1 7.00PM

From Filbert Street, Leicester City take on Tottenham (whose Paolo Tramezzani is pictured), with the home side looking the most likely to finish ahead. For all their money, Spurs quickly slipped back into the role of crisis club as the season began, by now they will need to be at least mid-table if they are to keep the fans happy. The re-emergence of Darren Anderton in the World Cup and the stature of Sol Campbell can't stop a weak side from continually folding, and Leicester are just the kind of side to unsettle the Londoners.

YOUR GUIDE TO OUT-OF-THIS-WORLD SHOWS ON CABLE. WORDS: PATRICK HOLM

BRAVE NEW WORLDS

'WHAT if you could slide into a thousand different worlds, where it's the same year and you're the same person, but everything else is different? And what if you can't find your way home?'

This is the basis for the science fiction adventure series Sliders, now in its fourth year of adventures on Sky One.

The Sliders are led by Quinn Mallory, a brilliant young student who discovers the process while working on an experiment in his basement. Played by Jerry O'Connell, Quinn has developed into a more mature character and a clear leader as the series has progressed. O'Connell is now a producer of the show and, when it changed networks in America, he agreed with the decision to emphasise family, bringing his own brother Charlie to play his brother Colin in the series. Because Sliders visits a different parallel world each week, it was easy to create a world where Quinn had a brother who was separated from him at birth.

The O'Connells are joined by Cleavant Derricks as soul star 'Crying Man' Rembrandt Brown. Derricks' character in the series became increasingly serious with the arrival of Charlie O'Connell who took on a more comic role as Colin. As a result, Derricks has been able to show other sides to Brown's nature.

The fourth Slider is Maggie Beckett, played by Kari Wuhrer, who joined the show towards the end of the third season. She replaced John Rhys-Davies, who played arrogant Professor Maximillian P Arturo. She began as a tomboy-ish character, but since the fourth year has developed a more feminine side – although she stands up to Quinn when she thinks he is making the wrong decisions.

When the Sliders can land in a world where anything is possible, the talents of the four team-mates allow them to survive – and continue their quest to find Quinn and Rembrandt's home dimension.

Sky One, Mondays, 9.00pm

BATTLESTAR GALACTICA

21 episodes, 1978

Starring Lorne Greene (Commander Adama), Dirk Benedict (Lieutenant Starbuck), Richard Hatch (Captain Apollo), Maren Jensen (Athena), Noah Hathaway (Boxey), Laurette Spang (Cassiopea)

The Sliders aren't the only people searching for Earth. Twenty years ago, fleeing the tyranny of a robot race called the Cylons, a fugitive fleet, led by a mighty warship, the Battlestar Galactica, embarked on a quest for a shining planet they knew only as Earth, and the '13th Tribe of Mankind' who lived there. Battlestar Galactica came from the pen of Glen A Larson, also responsible for Buck Rogers and Knight Rider. The crew was guided by Bonanza's Lorne Green as Commander Adama, whose son Apollo and his best friend Starbuck were the heroes of the show. It was criticised, and even sued, for jumping on the Star Wars bandwagon, and was the most expensive TV series of its time. The Galactica discovered Earth in a second season, now renamed Galactica 1980, but this limp sequel was quickly cancelled. However rumours abound that fresh adventures of the Galacticans will appear shortly.

LIVE TENNIS EUROSPORT 6.00PM

Coverage of the ATP Tour season may be drawing to a conclusion, but with a hefty $750,000 on offer to the winner of the Grand Prix de Tennis in Lyon this week, interest isn't. The French crowd almost raised the roof last year as home favourite Fabrice Santoro defeated Tommy Haas of Germany. It had taken ten years for a Frenchman to follow in the footsteps of current Davis Cup captain Yannick Noah and win this title. Other players such as Spain's Felix Mantilla (right) and Australia's Mark Philippoussis will attempt to stop another French triumph.

BEST OF ALL TIME SKY SPORTS 3 2.30PM

The latest programme in this riveting series asks the question – who is the best British boxer of all time? A three man panel consiting of writer and journalist Harry Mullan, ex-British champ Glenn McCrory and promoter Frank Warren attempt to agree on an answer. The most obvious choice would be Henry Cooper, simply because of his famous world title bout with Muhammed Ali over 30 years ago. Although he never won a world championship, he would easily win a popularity poll.

GENERAL

Wolves at Our Door
Discovery Channel 8.00pm
This programme gets another showing under the title 'Best of Discovery', and it's simply brilliant. Jim Dutcher spent six years living with and filming a pack of wolves in Idaho's Sawtooth Mountains. Their relationship with the wolves is incredible and the photography reveals much about these elusive animals.

LIVE BRISTOL CITY V BOLTON WANDERERS SKY SPORTS 2 7.00PM

When the newly promoted meet the recently relegated only very rarely does it make for a good football match. Bristol City taking on Bolton Wanderers looks like one of these occasions. City are rightly bullish about their chances of another quick promotion and are feared for their home form. Whilst Bolton (whose Mark Fish is pictured) dont want their yo-yo seasons to end just yet – manager Colin Todd will have to brush up on his PR skills if he can't return his charges to the Premiership once again at the first attempt.

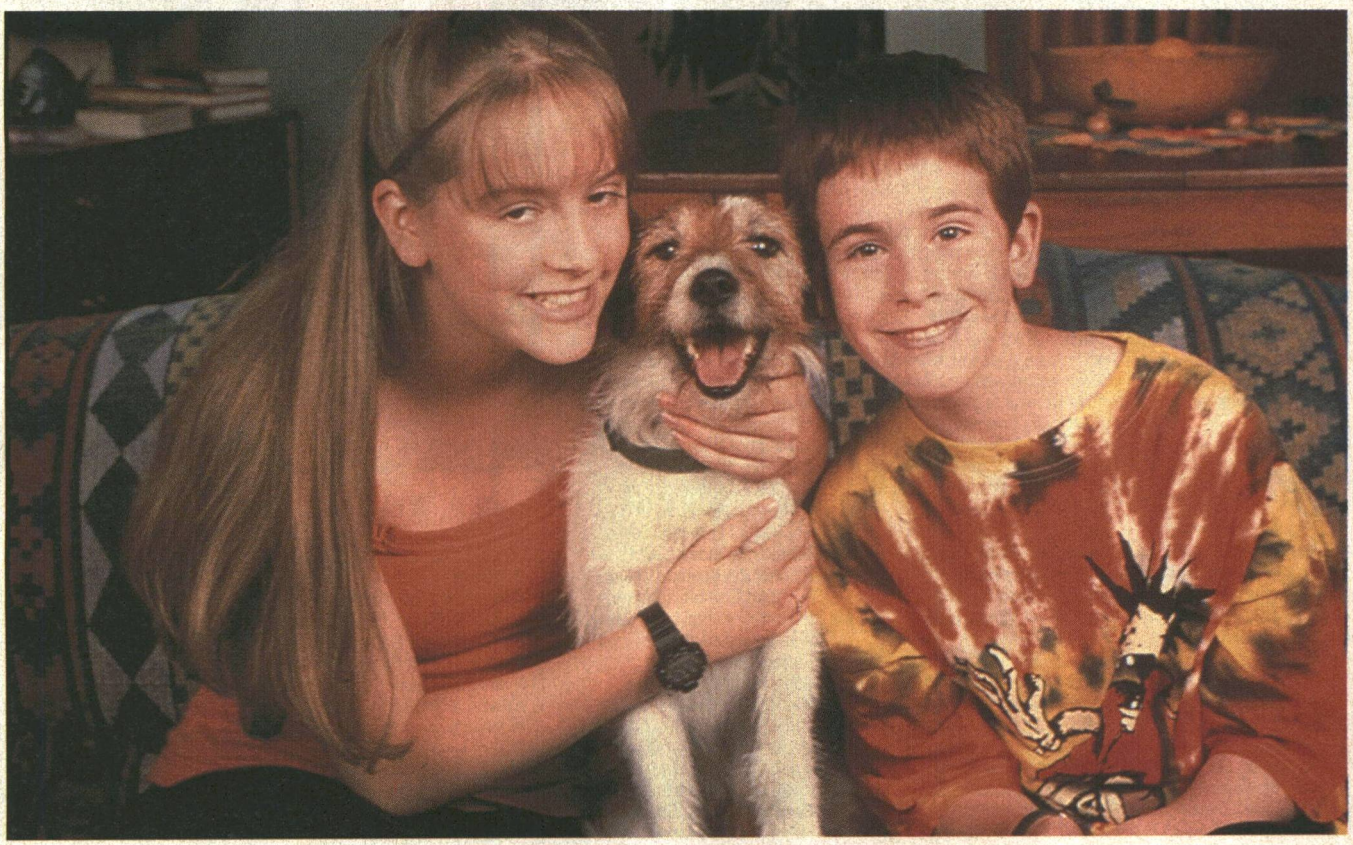
MOB TIES

A riveting gangster movie masterpiece, Donnie Brasco tells the fact-based story of FBI undercover agent Joseph Pistone (Johnny Depp), who, under the identity of the young hustler of the title, infiltrated and helped bring down a Mafia family in the late-Seventies. Four Weddings and a Funeral director Mike Newell poses some intriguing questions about identity and loyalty when the line that separates the agent from his career crook persona becomes dangerously blurred as he forms a friendship with Al Pacino's put-upon hitman, 'Lefty' Ruggiero. As Brasco, Pistone attends the murders committed by 'Lefty' and his cohorts, helping to dispose of the bodies to maintain his cover, and even in his snatched off-duty moments, this intelligent family man begins to act, dress and talk like a thug – much to the distress of his long-suffering wife.

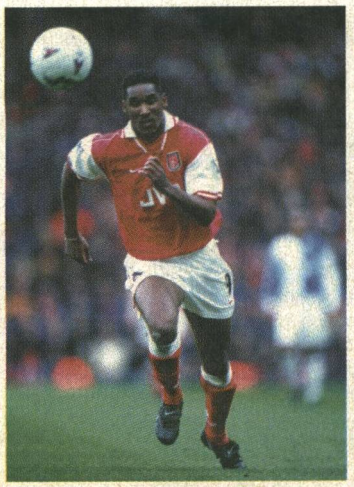
Sky Premier Saturday 31st 10.00pm



UNDER THE MICROSOAP

Two titans of children's programming, Disney Channel and Children's BBC, have joined forces to create one of the smartest and most imaginative kids' sitcoms around. The main storyline of Microsoap may deal with the identifiable ups and downs of family life – the parents of the young stars, Joe and Emily, have separated – but that's just a springboard from which the show takes off on its wild flights of fancy, which benefit from the input of guest stars ranging from a snake called Mr Squeezy to Attila the Hun.

Disney Channel from Saturday 24th 10.00am



A TALE OF TWO SEASONS

Last season's fixtures between Blackburn and Arsenal wove a compelling tale. Blackburn's pre-Christmas visit to Highbury saw a 3-1 victory for Rovers, and by Boxing Day Arsenal were 13 points adrift of Manchester United. The Gunners trip north at Easter saw a 4-1 victory put them within a point of Manchester United, with two games in hand. That meeting decided the championship. With their visit to Ewood Park this year, Arsenal will be hoping they can recover the form of that result – their 11th win in 14 matches.

Sky Sports 1 Sunday 25th 3.00pm – Live

IT'S A DOG'S LIFE

Disney's classic cartoon 101 Dalmatians is brought vibrantly up to date in the premiere of the hit live-action adaptation. The emphasis is on mischievous comedy, and while the spotty canine cast steals the film, the human stars are great fun to watch too, with Glenn Close chewing scenery to flamboyantly enjoyable effect as Cruella De Vil, the dastardly fashion house owner who wants the hounds' hides.

LIVE SUPER LEAGUE GRAND FINAL SKY SPORTS 1 5.30PM

After seven months, a barrel load of bruises and a ton of spectacular tries, the Super League comes to a climax with the inaugural Grand Final at Old Trafford. The new play-off system guarantees the two best teams will go head-to-head for the biggest rugby league prize money in history – £750,000. St Helens, (whose Chris Joynt) is pictured, are in with a chance, as are the Wigan Warriors. Eddie Hemmings and Mike Stephenson have waited all year to present this game and this showpiece will establish just how much progress the sport has made.

GENERAL

Biorhythm: Mike Tyson
MTV 7.30pm
This is an innovative riff on the celebrity biopic. A half-hour special, it eschews narration and other conventions of the traditional TV biography to focus on controversial boxer Mike Tyson. The programme allows the collision of music and images to speak for themselves. And the result packs a powerful punch.

LIVE BLACKBURN ROVERS V ARSENAL SKY SPORTS 1 3.00PM

Two of the most respected managers in the country – Arsene Wènger and Roy Hodgson – show us how tactical English football has become in this Premiership clash between Blackburn Rovers and current champions Arsenal. Rovers are into their second full season with Hodgson, who has quietly returned them to the upper reaches of the top flight while extracting the best out of men like Chris Sutton (right). Wenger, of course, has been a revelation and his team are hotly tipped to repeat at least one of their triumphs from last season.

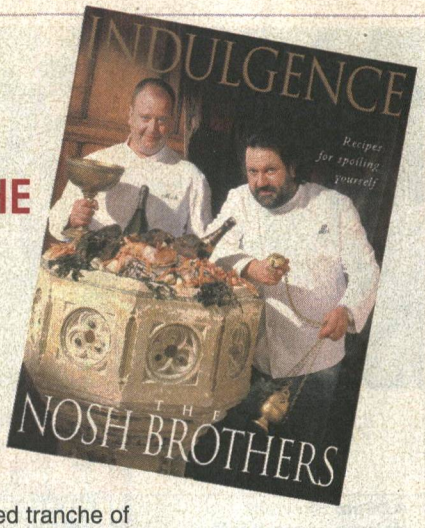
FOOD

WIN A COPY OF 'INDULGENCE' BY THE NOSH BROTHERS

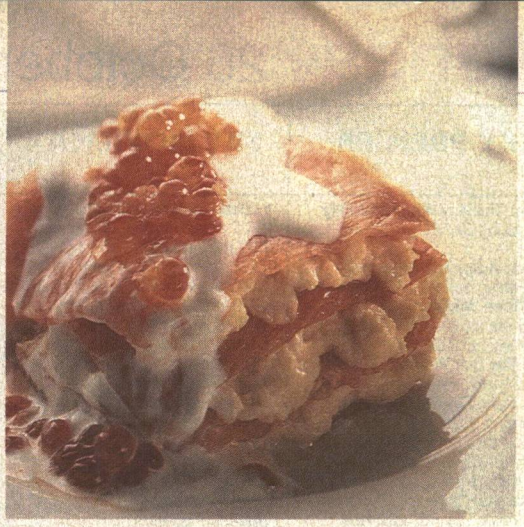


Those guerrilla gastronomes and Carlton Food Network favourites the Nosh Brothers have now committed their brand of irreverent culinary knowledge to 'Indulgence', a book of recipes for such unashamedly luxurious dishes as 'lasagne' of smoked salmon and scrambled egg with keta (see the recipe on the right), and baked tranche of turbot with roasted fennel and spinach burger in a green herb sauce. The book is published by Macmillan, priced £17.99, and we have ten copies to give away. First ten correct entries drawn at random win. Usual rules apply.

To enter, simply answer the following question:

WHAT ARE THE FIRST NAMES OF THE NOSH BROTHERS?

Send your entry to INDULGENCE competition, Cable Guide, 172 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P OJJ by 31 October.



THE NOSH BROTHERS' LASAGNE OF SMOKED SALMON AND SCRAMBLED EGG WITH KETA

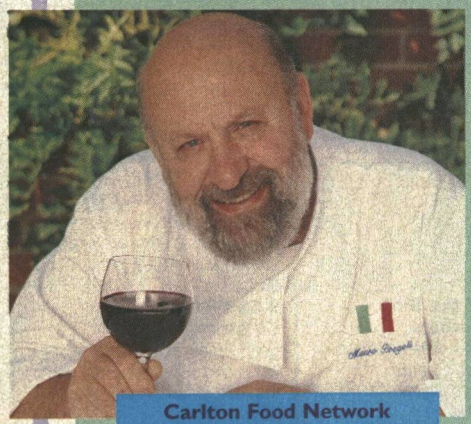
Ingredients

50g/2oz unsalted butter
6 small free-range eggs
salt and ground white pepper
85g/3oz soured cream
4 slices buttered white toast, trimmed into 10x71/2cm (4x3in) strips
30g/1oz cream cheese
10 sheets smoked salmon, trimmed into 10x71/2cm (4x3in) strips
1 small jar (50g/2oz) salmon keta (salmon eggs)
Freshly ground pepper for serving

Method

1. Melt the butter in a frying pan over a low to medium heat. Whisk the eggs gently with a fork and season with salt and white pepper.
2. Pour the mixture into the frying pan and stir with a wooden spoon until nearly set. Stir in the cream and remove from the heat immediately.
3. Spread some of the cream cheese onto a strip of the buttered toast, cover with a slice of smoked salmon, then spread a thin layer of scrambled egg on top. Repeat this process until you've built a stack of alternating layers of salmon and egg.
4. Finish with a layer of salmon (applying with a palette knife), spread a thin layer of soured cream over the stack, then sprinkle liberally with salmon keta. This mimics the white sauce and grated topping of traditional lasagne.

THE ITALIAN JOB



THE BREATHTAKING backdrop of Umbria is the setting for a new 13-part series in which respected chef Mauro Bregoli celebrates the cuisine of this region of central Italy. The emphasis is on traditional, rugged fare, and in each episode the Italian-born Mauro, who is the proprietor of the Old Manor House restaurant in Romsey, prepares three mouth-watering marvels from the locals' passionately defended recipes.

In the opening programme, Mauro treats viewers to gnocchi with wild mushrooms, a main course of barbecued roe deer escalopes and a dessert of rice tart, while later in the series he visits an olive oil manufacturer and tries his hand at truffle hunting.

OCTOBER BIRTHDAYS
● 5th Sir Bob Geldof ● 20th Dannii Minogue
● 27th John Cleese ● 14th Roger Moore

Scorpio♥♥
24 October-22 November

PERFECTION MAY be hard to achieve, but you'll feel more content with life in general. Your sign moves out of an indecisive phase and into a more settled period, so expect positive developments in affairs of the heart.

Sagittarius♥♥
23 November-22 December

THE PLANETS are perfectly poised for you to enjoy sharing and caring experiences. If you've been feeling emotionally and financially deprived, a change in circumstances will soon lead to a reversal in fortunes.

Capricorn♥♥
23 December-20 January

SOMEONE NEEDY may require extra love and attention, but you'll gladly sacrifice your time. You're already one of the zodiac's most responsible signs, but this month you'll be even more eager to do the right thing by others.

Aquarius♥
21 January-19 February

DURING THIS period of personal growth, you'll be more inclined to look inwardly for the answers to your problems. Past experience and heightened intuition will help you make the right decisions on love, health and money.

Pisces♥♥
20 February-20 March

SOMEONE SECRETIVE may keep you guessing or you'll hide your own feelings to avoid being hurt. Fortunately, loving Venus beams positive vibes and relationships will flourish, despite setbacks or a lack of communication.

Aries♥♥♥
21 March-20 April

VENUS MAKES an impact this month and you'll sense the tide turning in your love life. For some, there may be heart-stopping news on the home front. For others, a very happy reunion looks like it could be just the icing on the cake.

Taurus♥♥
21 April-21 May

YOU'LL BE very much aware of your feelings, yet may have trouble expressing them. But while the planets keep you tongue-tied for most of the month, you'll still harbour hidden desires for someone who's beyond your reach.

Gemini♥♥♥
22 May-21 June

THIS IS shaping up to be an unforgettable month – littered with romantic encounters, lucky breaks and happy outcomes. Loving energy surrounds you and someone special will be by your side to help create happy memories.

Cancer♥♥
22 June-23 July

YOU MAY hesitate when faced with tough decisions, but be warned that sitting on the fence will achieve nothing. Sort through your thoughts and emotions, then make your move when intuition tells you the timing is right.

Leo♥♥
24 July-23 August

YOUR RULER, the Sun, renders you compassionate, but Pluto adds steely determination to your character. People may turn to you in times of trouble this month, but you'll know instinctively when you're being taken for granted.

Virgo♥♥
24 August-23 September

SOMEONE MAY be trumped up with self-importance, but fortunately you'll have a sixth sense when it comes to character analysis. Your ruler, Mercury, helps you home in on problems and see right through pretentious people.

Libra♥♥
September 24-October 23

YOU'LL BE unflappable for the first three weeks of the month, but after that your patience wears thin. Look for new methods of relaxation and keep cool when the going gets tough. Remember, it's all about finding the right balance!

A Mother's Courage
Living 9.00pm
A vivid dramatisation of a single mother's attempts to protect her large family from the perils of gangs and drugs. She has nine children, so that's a lot of worrying. A good deal of strong will needs to be summoned for the mother, who is determined to fulfil her aspirations for each one of them.

GENERAL

Head Over Heels
Carlton Select 10.00pm
Set in the late 1950s, this seven-part drama series centres on the tensions between members of an Academy of Elegance and the rock 'n' roll coffee bar that opens directly opposite. The two places are like oil and water, but some students and some café drinkers can't keep away from each other.

WORLD WIDE RUGBY
SKY SPORTS 1 7.30PM

Spice up your evening with a chance to see the semi-finals of the Currie Cup from South Africa, where some of the best rugby in the world is currently being played. Last year's final saw Free State take Western Province all the way to the wire, with a try disallowed in injury time. Although Western Province are without their inspirational winger and former Springbok, James Small (right), they still field a first-class side, including new scrumhalf Dan Van Zyl. If this year's semi-finals match the passion of last year's final, rugby fans are in for a classic.

INSIDE SCOTTISH FOOTBALL SKY SPORTS 1 3.00PM

Last season really was the end of an era for Glasgow Rangers; after the bitter disappointment of losing the championship to Celtic, Rangers manager Walter Smith departed to the English Premiership along with star players Brian Laudrup and Paul Gascoigne. After the summer clear-out Rangers have a new manager, Dick Advocaat, and a number of new signings, including the highly-rated Argentinean forward Gabriel Amato (pictured right). This programme takes a look at the Ibrox side and their rivals in the new Scottish Premiership.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR

Did you ever used to dream you could be a member of the squeaky-clean Partridge family? What could be more perfect than making loads of money as you struggle through a painful adolescence? The reality of family bands is probably something different – sibling rivalry, tears and tantrums, grisly hand-me-downs, not to mention pushy, money-grabbing parents. VH1 keeps it in the family with a weekend dedicated to the bands who look to their brothers, sisters, aunties and uncles to help them on the road to success. Listen to, among others, the toothsome threesome Bee Gees brothers, the seagull-browed Oasis lads and the surgically challenged Jackson bunch. VH1, Musical Families Weekend, Saturday 24th, Sunday 25th.

LOUD loves a good hum-along and there have been some great movie theme tunes over the years to test your vocals out on – as well as some real turkeys. You can enjoy the real thing if you tune into VH1's Movie Hits (Fridays, 7.00pm) where they'll be playing the best soundtrack music from current releases and movie classics, as well as reviewing the biggest blockbuster movie releases. We've given our own star ratings to some notable movie tunes ...

LOUD'S TOP MOVIE TUNES TO REMEMBER – AND FORGET

Staying Alive* The Bee Gees from *Saturday Night Fever * The brothers Gibb give good disco grooves and John Travolta swings his pants in style.

Goldfinger* Shirley Bassey from *Goldfinger  A belter of a song from Bassey – fine vocals delivered from that remarkable twitching mouth.

Fame* Irene Cara from *Fame  It was fun to watch the New York High School for Performing Legwarmers and it spawned a generation of prancing wannabes.

Footloose* Kenny Loggins from *Footloose  Just when you thought it was safe to consign your legwarmers to the moths ...

Endless Love* Lionel Ritchie & Diana Ross from *Endless Love * The duo reach crescendo after crescendo in this exhausting (and endless) tribute to lurve.

Watch out for... If you didn't make it to any of the festivals this year, MTV are giving you the best of 1998 with Festivals Weekend. From the comfort of your armchair, watch coverage from V98, Reading and Ozzfest and chill out to the music of The Verve, Supergrass, Garbage and the Fun Lovin' Criminals – and no need to experience the toilets from hell (Saturday 3rd and Sunday 4th, at various times) ... Don't miss the 1998 VH1 Fashion Awards, where the world's most glamorous people honour the most stylish rock stars and videos, the best designers and the most beautiful models of the year (Thursday 29th, 6.00pm) ... Finally, on a more sombre note, MTV's The Mourning After looks at the phenomenon of untimely deaths among musicians and how the families, fans and band members cope with the loss (Thursday 1st, 10.00pm).

LIVE ICE HOCKEY SKY SPORTS 3 7.30PM

This sport is being given the heavy sell this year, and why not? In America, ice hockey is among the top four TV sports and has expanded in recent years with franchises in the hotter states of Florida and California. Britain's own league has teams in just about all the major cities including Cardiff (pictured right). Tonight's live action comes from the capital as London take on the Nottingham Panthers, who are coached by Mike Blaisdell and boast such fine and fearless players as Jeff DeCosta and Jarret Zukiwsky.

Sky Cinema 8.00pm
From 1974 comes perhaps the best version of this often-attempted tale of a couple of Chicago newspapermen in the 1920s doing battle with each other over a sensational story. Billy Wilder directs Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon as the combatants in question. Watch out for Susan Sarandon in an early role.

GENERAL

The House Auction
Discovery Home & Leisure 7.30pm
Another look at the nerve-jangling business of buying (or selling) a house at an auction rather than simply through an estate agent. This episode follows two couples whose houses go under the hammer and shows how they cope with the mounting pressure of selling, even if the price falls below their expectations.

With qualification for the European Ryder Cup team now well underway, this end-of-season trip to Jerez, Spain is more than just another tournament. It's only the top players and it's big money with over £1m on offer. And as every pound won is a point towards the Ryder Cup team, if you're not here you can't expect to make much of an impression on newly announced captain Mark James (right). Played this year at Montcastillo, it will be intriguing to see if Lee Westwood can successfully defend his title.

GENERAL

Jerry Springer Double Bill
Living 9.00pm
There's been plenty of Jerry on the channel this month, and we finish off with another double bill as he dives into the issues of sex and families like no other talk show host. It might not be acceptable television to some and it might make you cringe, but it's exceedingly watchable.

Bottom*'s Rik Mayall – 'absolutely gorgeous'*

BRITISH COMEDY RULES
I'M 14 years old and I would just like to say that UK Gold's line-up of vintage British comedy is fab! Bottom and The Young Ones are perfect for an evening of side-splitting laughter. And The Comic Strip Presents ... is brilliant! I think Rik Mayall is absolutely gorgeous. I've been looking for a picture of him but can't find one anywhere. Please, please print a really cuddly picture of him for me to drool over.

SINKING FEELING
MY family and I waited up till 1.00am to watch Discovery's two-hour Titanic Live spectacular that was broadcast worldwide on Sunday 16 August. We were amazed by the truly magnificent images, but at precisely 2.00am, half-way through the programme, the cable operator saw fit to pull the plug and leave us feeling cheated. Please can you tell us if Discovery are planning to repeat this truly incredible and fascinating programme?

Mrs Corrie Robinson
Surbiton, Surrey

I WONDER if you could shed some light on last night's fiasco. One of the most complex live link-ups ever to grace our TV screens was unashamedly cut short. One hour into Discovery's historic live broadcast from the wreck site of the Titanic, someone decided to give us Bloomberg, the business channel. I'm sure thousands of other people had stayed up until 1.00am to watch the drama unfold. What would it have taken to have the programme switched to one of the other empty channels along with a message to inform us of the move?

Jonathan Meadowcroft
e-mail

● Discovery replies: 'Weather conditions are unpredictable around the wreck site and this meant we could only make the decision to show the full live broadcast – thereby extending our transmission hours – close to the transmission time. Unfortunately, this was not communicated to cable operators as clearly as it should have been, and some of them closed our signal at the normal time, 2.00am. We apologise to everyone whose enjoyment was spoilt by this error. Hopefully, those who missed the live event would have been able to see one of the three repeat showings in the days following it – although we appreciate this is obviously not quite the same as seeing it live.'

SKY HIGH
KEEP up the good work, Sky One, and thanks for all those hours of enjoyment and all the great shows.

Stephen Cuff
County Durham

I JUST wanted to congratulate Sky One for their excellent and varied programmes. There is no other channel in Britain that can deliver such quality and quantity.

BABYLON'S BURNING
I AM so happy that Sci-Fi Channel has started to show Babylon 5. It is an excellent series – it's a soap, mystery, thriller and sci-fi in one.

Dom Maurice
e-mail

IT'S about time someone showed the brilliant Babylon 5. Will all five series be shown? Are there any plans to show the three films?

Neil M Young
e-mail

● Sci-fi Channel replies: 'We will be screening seasons one to four of Babylon 5 and are negotiating for season five. There's a six-month holdback on the movies, but we will definitely be trying to get hold of them.'

Babylon 5 – 'soap, mystery, thriller and sci-fi'

REPEAT PERFORMANCES
I AM A ten-year-old girl and a big fan of Nickelodeon. However, I have seen Sister Sister, Keenan and Kel, Sabrina, Alex Mack and Moesha back to back at least four times. I am no longer satisfied with continual repeats.

Nichola Robson
Merseyside

WHY do channels insist on showing the same films over and over again? For example, North by Northwest is on TNT all the time. Come on, let's have some variety.

COMMERCIAL FAILURE
I LOVE watching Sky One's excellent shows, such as The X-Files, Friends and ER. However, there is one thing that completely ruins the atmosphere and destroys the flow of the programme, and that is the length and frequency of commercial breaks. I have timed them and discovered that many of them are over five minutes long and sometimes appear only five minutes into the programme.

Jenni De Brun

ANGRY AND RESTLESS
I AM furious at the cheek of Living for taking off The Young and the Restless. It is ridiculous that the series was cancelled half-way through. We are now missing half the plot line.

Mary Spicer
e-mail

AS a regular follower of The Young and the Restless, I am furious that it should be cut, especially as the slot is being filled by yet more chat shows and cookery programmes.

Mrs Garland
Surrey

LIVING have stopped showing The Young and the Restless without a word of warning. How can a channel suddenly take off a programme that has been running for years?

Mrs J Abernethy
Co Durham

I COULD not believe it when it came to an abrupt end – right in the middle of two crucial storylines. It was just like reading a mystery story and then finding the last page had been torn out.

DJ Rose
London

MY daughter and I enjoy The Young and the Restless so much. We were so sad and disappointed when we found out it had stopped, especially when we know there are years' of episodes ahead yet to be viewed.

Mrs Pat Bharman
West Sussex

I WISH to express my anger at the withdrawal of The Young and the Restless. It became part of the lives of those who watched it.

Mrs B Starten

WE'RE STILL RECEIVING LETTERS ABOUT ...

BUFFY THE VAMPIRE SLAYER
BUFFY the Vampire Slayer was a great series and it's a shame it didn't receive the ratings it deserved [see last issue's 'Viewers' Views']. I can understand pulling it from a Saturday evening slot in such a situation, but not when there are still six episodes of the series to go. The least that could have been done was to show the remaining episodes before taking the show off the air.

Ed Higgins
e-mail

Buffy used to be advertised with Hercules and Xena. I feel Buffy is so different it warrants a separate advert. Many of my friends were put off watching Buffy because it was advertised alongside programmes they don't like.

Helen West

DAYS OF OUR LIVES
I just wanted to thank Cable Guide for printing my letter in the last issue. I don't know if it had the slightest influence with the schedulers at Sky One, but I received a letter from them last week with the news that I and thousands of others had been waiting to hear – Days of Our Lives returns in October [weekdays from Monday 5th at 1.00pm]. It goes to show that if enough viewers take the trouble to voice their opinions about programmes, it is possible to make a difference.

NEXT MONTH IN CABLE GUIDE

It's a month of blockbuster movies that includes Jim Carrey in Liar Liar and George Clooney in Batman & Robin on Sky Premier, and Drew Barrymore in Scream on MovieMax
